Editorial

ONCE again the chronicle of the College's year goes to print. In it you will find a coverage of our successes, and occasional references to our failures during the year. There are things we prefer not to dwell on—little injustices, cavalier attitudes, incomprehensions which any established school freely admits and even expects, because, after all, a school is a human institution and is subject to human frailty.

There is no ratio between the importance attached to the various activities of our school and the amount of space they receive in the magazine. This is so from the very nature of the publication; it is primarily a popular record of the College's personnel and activities for the year. As such it is often more important to have a rather poor photo of a lad in the second back row of 4G than to give a word for word description of the Upper Sixth religious knowledge programme. At the same time no one doubts that the school considers the religious knowledge programme not only important but essential.

One fact should be evident from this magazine: no boy at Francis Douglas College should be bored. He doesn't have to be a potential Rhodes Scholar or a Caruso or even an All Black. There is plenty to interest and occupy any willing boy. Lessons occupy him for up to six hours a day. Although ideas of what a complete education is have expanded, lessons are no less important than in the past. On the contrary, with the rise in standards at the secondary level over the past decade, they are now perhaps more important. Outside of school times there are organised games—cricket, athletics, football, basketball, swimming, table-tennis, golf—and games that are not organised but which give exercise and enjoyment to Francis Douglas boys. Boys help in the sacristy, practise the piano, the organ, the accordeon, the guitar; some wield a paint brush; others help in the garden; library work is the contribution of some; tending golf greens and sports fields of others; issuing, collecting and cleaning sorting, and stacking sports gear keeps certain boys busy; checking the armoury and the quartermaster's store is the affair of others. This does not exhaust the activities. Still there are a few boys who just mope, and complain that there is nothing to do, nothing to write home about.

The point of all this is that the boy who is going to get the most out of his school, who is going to be mature and educated, is the one who tries to take part in all the activities of the school even if he does not foresee any particular advantage to himself. There are such boys at Francis Douglas College and you will read about them in the pages of this magazine.

Annual Report

Very Reverend and Reverend Fathers, Ladies, Gentlemen and Boys.

I have the privilege of presenting to you the eighth annual report of Francis Douglas Memorial College.

To all our guests this afternoon I extend the sincere and cordial welcome that Francis Douglas College has always offered.

When one sets out to review the work of a particular year, one instinctively thinks of the preceding years. While there is much superficial similiarity, there is also abundant evidence of change which we trust is synonymous with growth and maturity. When this college opened in 1959, the clear-cut moral and social standards of our own school days were still largely taken for granted. But now the school as well as the rest of the world is feeling the impact of the present day emphasis on liberty. Everybody praises this emphasis, knowing that, in the words of the Council document, "only in freedom can man direct himself towards goodness." But the few sentences that follow should also be pondered and practical applications found: "Our contemporaries make much of this freedom and pursue it eagerly; and rightly so, to be sure. Often, however, they pursue it perversely as a license for doing whatever pleases them, even if it is evil . . . man's dignity demands that he act according to a knowing and a free choice . . ." (Pastoral Constitution on the Church in the Modern World, Part 1, Chap. 1., Art. 17). In this connection the College has tried to provide its pupils with two things: the knowledge necessary to use liberty properly, and the opportunities for its exercise. In practice we have proceeded according to principles which we believe good parents accept; viz., be kind and considerate, and, at the same time, firm and insistent that directions be carried out. We believe that this approach helps a boy to balance his right to liberty with his duty to put the common good before his individual good in cases where there seems to be a dichotomy.

An analysis of the problem of child delinquency made in England some few years ago referred, among other causes, to the weakness of the educational system in which the emphasis, instead of being on moral formation and character training, was on examinations and specialisation. While great attention is given at Francis Douglas College to examinations and specialisation, the main emphasis is on the spiritual formation of the boys. Instruction in the Faith is provided in the daily religious knowledge classes, and opportunities for practising the Faith are abundant. We trust that there is, too, a Christian atmosphere in which boys may develop their personalities and acquire correct attitudes towards all the affairs of life. In connection with religious training I pay special tribute to our revered chaplain, Father M. Uhlenberg. More or less constant illness this year prevented his giving as much time as he formerly did to the boys. Nevertheless his personal interest in every boy was abundantly evident and of inestimable worth. I trust that his health has been sufficiently restored to enable him to carry on for many years more the good work he has been doing ever since the College opened. Father Doogan and the other priests of the parish have also been assiduous in attending to the spiritual needs of the boys and I assure them of the gratitude of all at Francis Douglas. The boys' retreats were preached this year by Father Richard O.F.M. The Y.C.S. met regularly during the first and second terms. The main activity of the A.D.C. this year was the monthly tridium for the general and special intentions of the archconfraternity. All told there is a sound spirituality in the school. One evidence of this is the number of former students who have given all for Christ in the priesthood or the religious life. Please God others will follow their steps next year.

Academic results for the 1965 public examinations were a subject of pride. In the University Scholarships Examination, S. Mochnacki, J. Bourke and N. Fitzgerald gained credit passes. Ten boys were awarded Higher School Certificates, twelve passed University Entrance, twenty-one gained Endorsed School Certificate, and fifty-nine passed School Certificate. Examination candidates for this year join with me in the hope that an even better tale may be told this time next year.

Since we realise that what is done for the spiritual and intellectual formation of the boys is largely negated without a good parent-pupil-teacher relationship, parents' nights were organized with great advantage to the staff and, we hope, to the parents and pupils as well. While it was encouraging to see the number who attended, we earnestly urge the other parents to come along next year. We have plans to enlarge the scope and variety of the meetings and to make them still more profitable. All concerned with the upbringing of boys should work together with the same values and standards. By parent-teacher meetings we can arrive at a mutual understanding on many matters, and save your boys from the confusion that results from the double standard. In addition to spiritual formation, a good parent-pupil-teacher relationship is of immense advantage in furthering the studies of your sons. In general the spirit of study of the boys is good but there is a "hard core" who do not realize that worthwhile success comes only to those prepared to work, and there are some others with poor study habits. Both of these small groups can be helped by close co-operation between parents and teachers. In these days of increased leisure, opportunities must be provided for training pupils in rewarding activities. The demands made by such activities are such that it is becoming increasingly impossible for the teaching staff to organize them. Each year we shall be relying on more parents to co-operate with us in running them efficiently. Already parents assist in athletics, basketball, rugby, soccer, the school dance, debating, the prize-giving ceremony, and Corso appeals. To all who help in these concerns and in other ways too we are most grateful.

In a college where many students are boarders, organized sport plays a special part. Games are a necessary, healthy relaxation and have served as stimuli for school spirit and loyalty. I shall not give here a detailed account of our sporting successes as they can be read in other parts of this magazine.

The Cadet Unit, which does much to develop leadership and character, was again well trained and efficient. The annual barracks week at the beginning of the first term and the other cadet days later in the year, drew praise and commendation from all observers, including the officers of the permanent army who inspected the work of the unit. We are proud of our cadets and the College is indebted to the Army authorities, and in a special way to Brother Conrad who is in charge of the unit, as well as to Brother Basil and Mr. L. Walsh, members of the staff who hold cadet officer commissions. We record with pride the success of Nigel Fitzgerald in winning the William Friar Memorial Prize for 1965. This is the second time in three years that the College has won the prize for the most efficient cadet in the Central Military District. So far this year, Peter Roebuck has won the area nomination for this competition. Our congratulations go to the shooting team in topping the .22 shoot for the Central Military District.

It is an annual pleasure to thank publicly several ladies to whom we are indebted. For many years the College has enjoyed the services of Mrs. M. McLafferty as music teacher. This year the very high quality of her tuition was apparent to all when one of her college pupils, John Powell, won the Alice Cole Piano Scholarship. We congratulate both Mrs. McLafferty and John Powell on the richly deserved honour. The title of secretary tells only some of the work of Mrs. French at and for Francis Douglas College. She is also an efficient P.R.O. and lends a sympathetic ear to homesick boarders and students otherwise in distress. Mrs. D. McDonald has again placed her knowledge and skill as librarian at our disposal, and extended the scope of her work to the great benefit of your boys. In the third term we were fortunate in being able to use the teaching skill and interest and drive of Mrs. E. O'Neill for the benefit of some of our boys who have reading difficulties. The Matron, Mrs. E. Willey and the Sub-Matron, Mrs. L. Reeve, have discharged a heavy task in looking after the health and meals of Brothers and boarders especially, but also in treating day boys in emergencies. I affirm our deep appreciation of the contribution of these good ladies to the school's welfare.

Our College would be the poorer in many respects without the active co-operation of the Ladies Auxiliary. To all members we are grateful but especially to Mrs. Scott, president, and Mrs. Herlihy, secretary, who naturally bear the extra burden of organization. A special word of thanks, too, to the ladies on the Monday lunch rosters.

Likewise we extend our heartfelt expressions of gratitude to Messrs. A. Dunlop and P. Dwyer, president and secretary respectively of the Men's Committee. The men were always most willing and capably undertook whatever was asked of them.

College captain this year was Dennis Moynihan. This honour was a fitting climax to his six years at college, and we are happy to report that he carried out his duties to the satisfaction of all. He was ably seconded by the College prefects.

Dux of the College for 1966 is Michael Kelly. He is a methodical and conscientious student, and will go far in the future. All at Francis Douglas wish him every success.

At Francis Douglas College our lay staff play an important part in the education of your sons. To them I am indebted for their interest and efficient work over the year.

Lastly to the Brothers of my own community may I express my appreciation. They literally work around the clock for your boys. Francis Douglas College is what it is because of their unfailing co-operation and understanding. To them I am most grateful, and I am sure you do not forget them and their work in your prayers.

To all—clergy, parents, pupils and friends—I extend the good wishes of the Brothers for the coming holy Christmas season.

BROTHER JULIAN

NEW ZEALAND'S ORIGIN

The old saying "as old as the hills" is meant to mean "as old as things can be," but hills are only very temporary pieces of landscape. The silt that we see washing down streams, or the landslips that we see nibbling away at hillsides are so slow in going about their work of erosion that it will take an unbelievably long time to wear away a whole hill, probably many thousands or tens of thousands of years. But compared to the age of the earth this is no time. Rocks from the mining districts of the world can be dated by radioactivity, giving ages up to 4,000 million years. If the earth is old as this, then it is a wonder that there are any hills or mountains left.

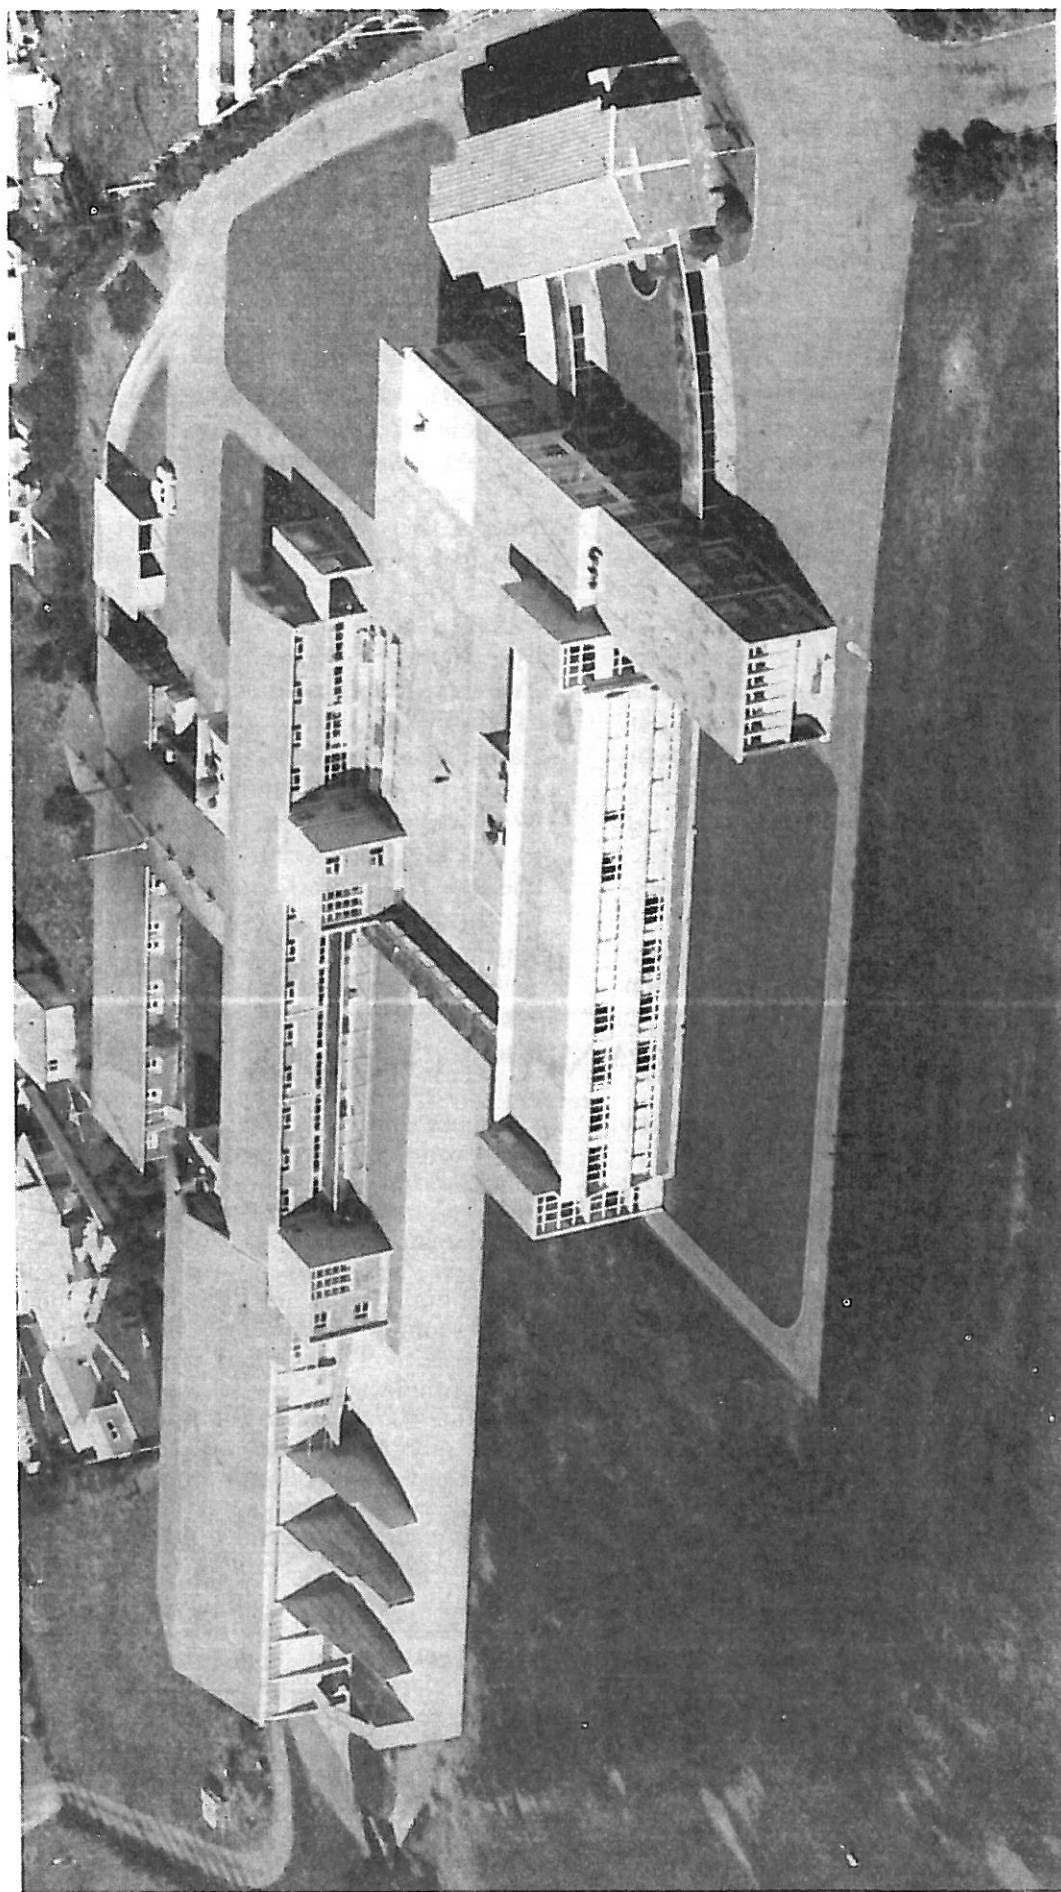

The answer is that the mountain ranges around the world are relatively new, and some are still being formed. The Alps, Himalayas, Rockies and Andes are all less than 100 million years old. Mountain ranges that existed before this, can be found scattered around the world, but they are just worn down stumps of ranges that are usually only a few thousand feet at the highest point.

Thus mountain ranges are things that gradually rise where there was no range before, the rocks in them being forced up continually, while water and ice erosion wear them down as they come up. Finally the uplifting force ceases and the range is worn down to a line of low hills and plateau.

New Zealand is at present in an early stage of mountain building. There is a long belt of rocks running from New Britain through the Solomons to Tonga, then turning down through the Kermadecs to New Zealand. This long belt is starting to rise above the floor of the ocean into a long submarine ridge, but so far this has come above the water level only in a few places. Where only the peaks of this underwater mountain range reach the surface, we have the strings of volcanic islands such as the Solomons. In New Zealand the uplift has been much more intense and a much larger amount of rock has been raised out of the sea. Proof of the underwater origin of New Zealand is found in the abundant deposits of old sea shells often miles inland in the hill country. This upward movement is still going on and is accompanied by the earthquakes which are such a common feature of New Zealand.

Foyer Painting

Whether or not people like the painting that is a feature of the foyer, they certainly notice it. It is modern but not abstract, and combines conventional portraiture with a certain amount of symbolism. It gives an impression of strength with its definite lines, rugged, masculine features and bold reds, browns and blues. The work of a well known Sydney artist, Mr. Mohr, it is painted on copper and has as theme the life work of St. John Baptist de La Salle.

Christ serene in majesty forms the central figure. On the right is St. de La Salle in an attitude of loving adoration and supplication, an attitude familiar to him for it is certain that he often spent whole nights in prayer, and had recourse to prayer when persons and events turned against him, endangering the very existence of his Institute. To the left of Christ is the work of St. de La Salle at two different levels, the material level and the human level. Symbols and names recall places important in his life or the development of his work. When he was only thirty seven he left his birthplace, the provincial town of Rheims for the more cosmopolitan atmosphere of Paris where he continued his experiments in simultaneous teaching and teacher training, and also started teaching "vocational" subjects to young men already at work.

This teaching was carried out on Sundays. St. Yon in Rouen was the scene of a remarkable ensemble of institutions which showed him to be a man of genius at least two centuries ahead of his time. Here he established a boarding school catering for the needs of the rising merchant and professional classes who had no use for the traditional classical education of the day. On the same property was a foundation for the correction as opposed to the mere punishment of juvenile delinquents. His methods were as modern as the distinction he made between correction and punishment. He insisted on the need of treating each lad as a person and valuing him as such. He was sure that this consideration would draw what was best out of the boys and gain their respect and love. After that they would reform themselves. And he was remarkably successful.

Nearer to Christ are reminders of Avignon, in de La Salle's day a papal possession, and of Rome. Not only did he found schools in both places but they are symbols of his unswerving loyalty to the Pope, which is the more remarkable because of the atmosphere of Gallicanism and Jansenism then rife in France.

The human level is seen in the group of Brothers at the side of the picture. They represent another aspect of his life-work: the founding of an Institute of men who carry on his educational work in seventy-eight different countries at the present time. The different ethnic groups represented remind the viewer that St. de La Salle's Institute is composed of men of different races and cultures.

The Saint and the Brothers are all looking towards Christ and behind Him they catch a glimpse of the heavenly Jerusalem which they hope to attain and to which they direct their pupils.

Various rainbows, besides tying the parts together like the steel girders of a modern building, also draw the eye to Christ and then to St. de La Salle. They cannot help but remind one of God's covenant with Noe and impart a certain biblical overtone to the work. The rainbow, too, is the symbol of hope, an outstanding virtue of de La Salle in the face of almost continuous opposition from well-meaning but short-sighted men as well as from self-centred and incompetent ones. Hope and trust, expressed in complete abandonment to Providence, characterised him.

An open book is a symbol of the Rule of the Brothers or perhaps of the Gospel which de La Salle said specifically is the "first Rule of the Brothers." Behind it is a suggestion of a cross, a reminder that every way of life has its less pleasant moments.

Finally there is a touch of local colour in the Southern Cross of which Christ is the centre. The purpose of the de La Salle Brothers in New Zealand is to make Christ the centre of people's lives, and that is why the motto of Francis Douglas College is CHRISTO DUCE—Christ is my Leader.

B.J.W.

THIRTY-NINTH GENERAL CHAPTER OF THE DE LA SALLE BROTHERS

The Church has just had a Council to take a good look at herself and adopt means to carry out more effectively the work of Christ committed to her. Likewise, the various religious orders in the Church have somewhat similar meetings from time to time to take a look at themselves and see if they are doing the job their founders expect them to do for the Church, the Mystical Body of Christ. The De La Salle Brothers have concluded one session of such a meeting or General Chapter. It began on Easter Wednesday, 20th April, and concluded on Tuesday 21st June.

Preparations for the Chapter began in 1963 when the spirit of Vatican Council 11 became evident. The 18,000 Brothers throughout the world were invited by their Superior General to examine seriously and objectively the contribution they are making as religious and as educators to the work of the Kingdom of God. There were conferences, 'workshops', discussions and publications covering every conceivable facet of a Brother's life and the organisation and vitality of the Institute. Individuals and groups were encouraged, begged, to send in their findings and suggestions so that any dead wood that had accumulated over the centuries might be cut away, and that means appropriate to the conditions of the times and needs of men might be courageously adopted.

As the date set for the opening of the Chapter drew nearer, preparations of another kind took place. Delegates from every corner of the world were elected according to a system that aimed at making the representation as even as possible. Altogether 120 members are taking part in the Chapter. The oldest is 84 and the youngest 39. Seventeen delegates were born before 1900 and sixteen after 1920. A substantial majority of the Chapter members possess Master's Degrees or the equivalent, and fourteen have earned Doctorates in various fields: Theology, Philosophy, Canon Law, History, Letters, Science, Pedagogy, Chemistry, Pharmacy, etc. Among the 120 members of the Assembly are found natives of twenty-two different countries.

To ensure the efficient running of the General Chapter, the most modern devices are used. There is instantaneous translation into French, English and Spanish. Twenty portable microphones each containing a tiny radio transmitter are available and each member has a set of earphones plugged into a small transistor with a three-way switch enabling him to choose the language he prefers to hear. Voting is also a push button affair. The impulses are received and tabulated by three electronic counters and flashed onto a panel on the Secretary's desk. This is a time-saving device but votes on very important matters are recorded and counted by scrutineers in the traditional way. So that the delegates might work in the most congenial surroundings, eight men spent months repainting and redecorating the parts of the Mother House to be occupied by the capitulants. Even General Chapter members must eat in order to pray, think and work properly. Hence there was a complete renovation of the kitchen area and facilities, to enable the Sisters to prepare meals for up to three hundred persons—including those on special diets—and to serve, hot appetizing meals punctually.

After the opening days of retreat the Chapter delegates got down to the unavoidable business of deciding on a system of government for the Assembly, verifying credentials, setting a schedule of sessions, electing officers to the various posts of responsibility, organizing working commissions etc. The seven major commissions studied every aspect of the Brothers' life, in the light of the conciliar documents and taking into account the observations and aspirations of the Brothers who wrote in.

By the 10th May, it was felt necessary to form a special commission to deal adequately with the problems of the missions. On Friday, 20th Brother Nicet Joseph, the Superior General, handed in his resignation. This was what he had notified his intention of doing months before. An election for a new Superior General therefore became necessary.

On Monday 23rd, the Mass of the Holy Spirit was offered, and the Most Blessed Sacrament exposed. The Capitulants were then locked in the Chapter Hall without breakfast, without translators, and without experts, and were to remain there in black fast until a Superior General was chosen. The Holy Father had appointed Most Reverend Archbishop Paul Philippe, Secretary of the Sacred Congregation of Religious, to preside. After fifteen minutes of private prayer the ballots were distributed. Each one then carried his ballot to the kneeler before the Crucifix, swore before God that he would choose the one best suited for the solemn position, marked his ballot, and dropped it into the box. The tellers then counted the ballots in the dead silence of the tense Assembly. Brother Charles Henry received a very clear majority on the first ballot and was invited to sit in the chair used by St. John Baptist de La Salle, there to receive the homage of each of the Capitulants. Thus after two and a half centuries, the first non-French Superior General was elected. Brother Charles Henry is an American. His election and others to follow, notably that of Brother Pablo Manual, a Spaniard, as Vicar General and of Brother Aloysius Meldan, an Australian, as Secretary General, indicate that the Institute has taken on a truly international orientation at this point in history when it needed to do just that.

And what about the politics of the Chapter? Of course there are differences, as is to be expected in an international group where complete freedom of expression is allowed. But divisions are not on national lines. Majorities cut across all national lines. In general the older delegates tend to be more conservative although not all the older members are numbered among that group.

By the end of May the Chapter, which was already the longest in history, could see no possibility of ending its work satisfactorily and quickly.

It was slowed down by lack of information which it needed from some of the post-conciliar commissions which had not quite finished their work. So much ground, too, had been covered that it was felt that time was needed for the delegates to study, digest, and evaluate the information at their disposal. For these reasons and because of the approach of the Roman summer, the members decided to elect the Brothers Assistants and then close the first session. A second session is due to open in October 1967. By that time all the post-conciliar commissions will have finished their work and time will have been available to carry out experiments on various important items such as the community prayers of the Brothers. In the light of results obtained, the delegates will be in a better position to debate and vote on important questions that still have to be decided.

Very little of a definitive nature has come from the first session but a great deal of spade work has been done and the second session should be able to work more quickly or at least show more results in the form of definite decisions.

The Investiture of the Prefects

Monsignor Minogue at the Prefects Inauguration

On Monday the Fourteenth of February, several days after they were elected to their office by the votes of forms five and six the College prefects were invested by The Right Rev. Monsignor Minogue, Parish Priest.

We were all assembled in the Gymnasium, to await the arrival of the Monsignor. After a short period of silence, Monsignor, old but jubilant and still very active, entered with Father Uhlenberg, our chaplain, and the Director Brother Julian.

Brother Julian introduced the Monsignor in a short address during which he pointed out the purpose of the assembly. Monsignor then proceeded to bless the badges and present each prefect with the sign of his authority. Denis Moynihan was first as Captain of the school, followed by the house captains, Peter Roebuck, Solomon house; John Watson, La Salle house; Gregory Dwyer, Benildus house and Paul Karalus, Loreto house, and finally the remainder of the prefects.

The new prefects promised before the assembled school to help the Brothers to uphold the regulations of the school, to co-operate with the Brothers and to give good example to the boys at all times.

Monsignor gave a wonderful speech emphasizing the fact that leadership was essential in a school for its proper running. He congratulated the new prefects who had gained the confidence of the rest of the boys. Our interest in his speech never lagged because of his skilful placing of seeds of humour in strategic places.

Denis Moynihan replied on behalf of the prefects, thanking Monsignor for gracing the occasion by his presence.

MICHAEL KELLY
Dux of College

Some boys seem to fit naturally into school life. At the same time everyone knows that any one who makes a success of anything worthwhile must work. And certainly, ever since the day he stepped into Form One, back in 1960, Michael Kelly has worked and studied so consistently that the casual observer would say that learning came easily to him. One result is that this year we hail him as Dux of Francis Douglas College and congratulate him on that well-earned and coveted title.

Throughout the years he has conscientiously studied all subjects on the curriculum, those he didn't particularly like as well as Mathematics and Chemistry which seem to intrigue him and at which he is brilliant. Since 1963 he has been dux of his class.

But Michael has not been a devotee of the 'ivory tower' mentality. He has taken his full share of responsibility for the life of the school. This year he is a prefect and Vice-captain of Solomon House. He is an active Y.C.S. Secretary and captained our Debating Team at the annual competition.

Michael has taken steps to enter Victoria University of Wellington next year to study for a B.Sc. degree. We are sure he will bring to his University studies the thoroughness and balance that have marked his career at Francis Douglas College. We wish him success and look forward to seeing him whenever he is in New Plymouth.

DENNIS MOYNIHAN
College Captain

In February 1961 Dennis Moynihan bade a temporary adieu to Ohura and entered Francis Douglas College as a Form III Boarder. Immediately he began to display those qualities of leadership, co-operation and consideration for others that led to his being elected College Captain this year.

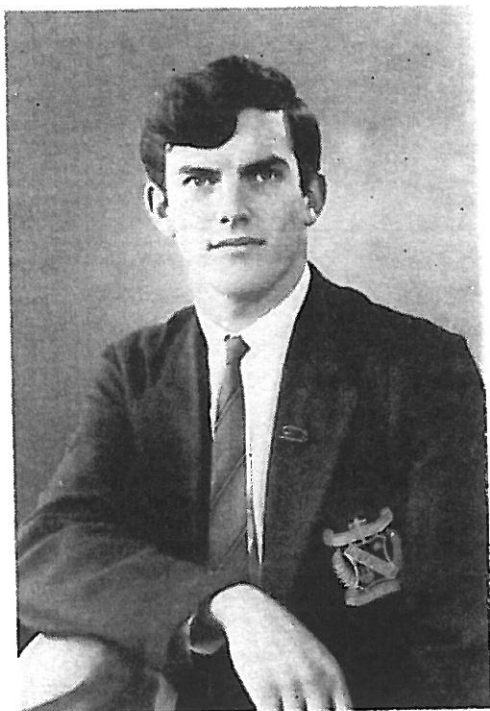

His cursus honorum has been normal and steady. He became a prefect in 1964, Captain of Loreto House in 1965 and College Captain this year.

Dennis has always entered into the life of the College. Scholastically he has made his best showing at Mathematics. He has taken part in whatever extra-curricula activities were on. This year he captained the First XI after being in College cricket teams for five years. Year by year he has played rugby for the College and frequently gained selection as a rep. He did his best for Athletics as a hurdler. He has always been a keen cadet, in 1964 he was Senior Shooting Champion and this year is an Under-Officer with the rank of Platoon Commander. He is a member of the Debating Society and Y.C.S. President.

It is evident that Dennis did his best to put something into the School, and his effort has resulted in the rounded, mature personality he is taking from the school. We wish him every success in his studies towards the B.E. degree he intends to start at Christchurch next year, and also in what lies ahead in the years after that.

HOUSE CAPTAINS

JOHN WATSON

"La Salle"

Seven years ago, John entered college as a First Form boy. During the following years he has developed a sense of responsibility and qualities of leadership which this year have caused him to be selected by the boys as a prefect and captain of La Salle House.

John obtained his School Certificate in 1964 and is now in the Upper Sixth Form.

John's Cadet and sporting records reflect the interest he has taken in his school. In this his third year as an N.C.O., he has obtained the highest rank possible for a cadet, that of Officer Cadet. In the field of sport, John has merited selection in the First XV for two years and has made three tours with college rugby teams to Blenheim and Mangere. He has also been in the athletic team for the past two years, and represented the school in the Inter-Secondary Schools Cross-Country Championships this year. In the Swimming Carnival, John won the school's senior diving championship for 1966.

Next year John intends to begin studies for the teaching profession at Palmerston North and hopes to do some units with Massey University.

P.K.

GREGORY DWYER

"Benildus"

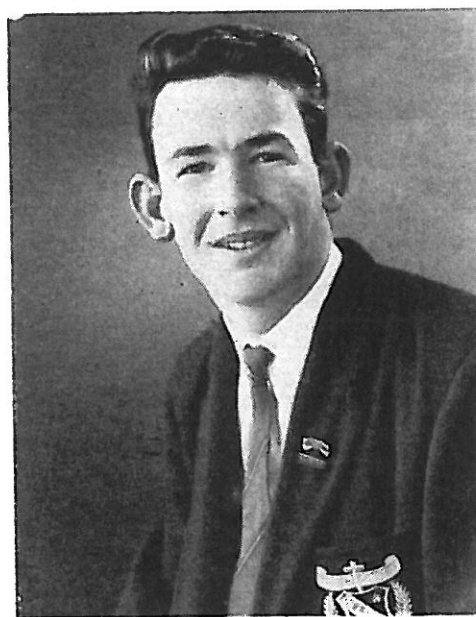

Greg joined the college in 1962 as a third form boarder, and since then has enjoyed an uninterrupted progression through the classes. He gained his School Certificate in 1964, University Entrance in 1965 and is now in the Upper Sixth studying for the bursaries examination. An ardent worker, Greg has won the admiration of his class and teachers by the way in which he can apply himself to his study or any task he takes on.

Greg has taken an active interest in the cadet unit, and having served two years as an N.C.O. and passed a special administration course, he, this year, worked as a sergeant in charge of the unit's H.Q. An enthusiastic and hard worker in the interests of the college Greg was elected by the boys prefect and Vice-Captain of Benildus House last year and House Captain this year.

For the last three years Greg has played for the College under 10 stone team against Mangere and this year captained the first side in six years to win this annual fixture. In the 5th grade he captained this year's most popular "College Sociable" team, which, due to the efforts of Greg and his team-mates drew enthusiastic support from both boys and Brothers.

Greg has always been outstanding as a worker and always given a good lead in the school. With these attributes in his favour, we are sure he will do well in his chosen career (Professional Accountancy following the B.C.A. degree at Victoria) and we wish him in the future, every success that he has experienced here at College.

P.R.

HOUSE CAPTAINS

PAUL KARALUS

"Loreto"

Paul entered the College as a Third Form boarder in 1962 and has attended since 1963 as a dayboy. His conscientious efforts and natural ability as a leader have this year been rewarded by his election to House Captain and re-election as a prefect.

In his five years at College Paul has been noted for his academic successes and his active participation in school activities. He obtained his School Certificate in 1964, University Entrance in 1965, and this year he is in the Upper Sixth studying for the bursaries examination.

Paul's sporting achievements include a fine football career, topped this year by a highly successful year as loose-forward for the undefeated 1st XV. He represented the College as a member of the victorious Senior Relay Team in the Inter-Secondary Schools' Sports this year, and also led Loreto to their first-ever win in the College Athletic Sports.

Paul is awaiting the results of a Voluntary Service Abroad application and intends to study at Victoria University for a Degree either next year or, if he is accepted for V.S.A., the year after. We wish him every success for the future.

J.W.

PETER ROEBUCK

"Solomon"

Peter began his school career as a third form boarder in 1962. Since then he has progressed through the school classes gaining his School Certificate in 1964 and is now in the Upper Sixth Form.

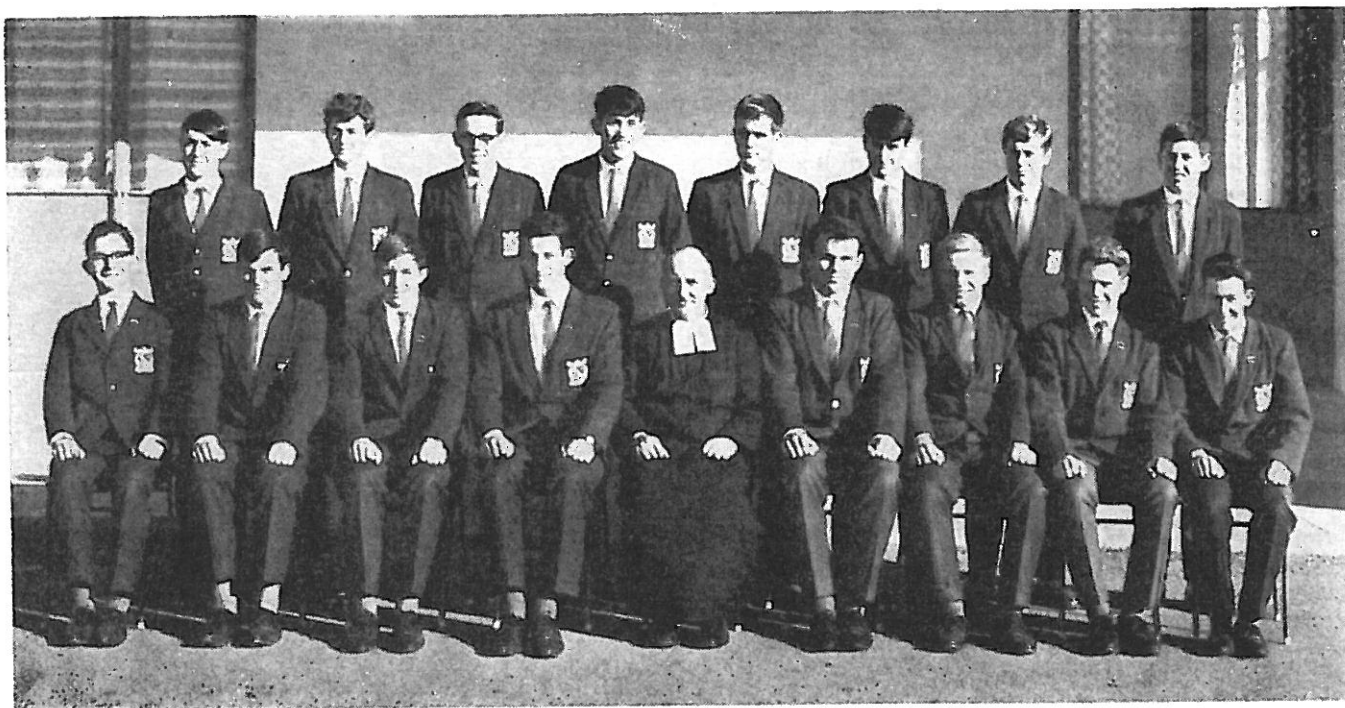

His outstanding personality and leadership caused him to be selected as a prefect by the boarders in 1964-66, as vice-captain of Solomon House in 1965 and as House Captain this year.

In the field of sport Peter has always been outstanding. As an athlete he has represented the college in field and sprint events for the past three years, and at present holds school records in some of these events. Last year Peter was vice-captain of the 1st XV. This year, his fourth with the team, he captained the undefeated College side. Peter achieved his rugby goal by touring New South Wales as vice-captain and utility forward of the Taranaki Secondary Schools' team during the August holidays.

Peter has reached the top as an N.C.O. in our Cadet Unit. He was last year's R.S.M. and this year held the rank of Officer-Cadet. Having won selection as Taranaki's outstanding cadet, Peter is a candidate for the William Friar Memorial Prize.

Next year Peter will study for a degree at Victoria University. We wish him the same success in this new venture that he has experienced while here at College. G.D.

VATICAN 11 ON YOUTH

The highlights of the Second Vatican Council's teachings on youth, I would list under four headings: the education of youth, the duties of elders, youth and its response, and youth as tomorrow's society. The understanding of youth and its problems has been a hallmark of Vatican 11. The statements, while of a generalizing nature, can be fully backed up by practical examples.

The Declaration on Christian Education restates the well-established principles of religious and secular training. In the appropriate discussions on society, morality, marriage and culture, statements are made on the norms of education of youth. What is new is the emphasis on facets of education that have been overlooked. Apostolic formation is the result of early parental and church education. Active apostles must be grounded in theology, ethics and philosophy (with the due modifications for the young). Civic and political education must be painstakingly provided for the health of tomorrow's society. Social education must be given to youth so that great-souled people can be provided, such people being necessary in our times. The result of these educations is to produce faithful, well-informed, socially active, and cultured youth.

The duties of elders, namely parents, teachers, and Church pastors towards youth accompanies every statement on youth. Their prime duty is education (the inalienable duty and right of parents, the vocation of teachers, the Church's means of imparting a full life to members) and the development of true apostles. Another new facet of adult's duties towards youth is the establishment of dialogue or friendly relations with youth, to overcome the age gap and to offer balanced advice whenever possible.

The discussion on youth and its response was opened in the introduction to the Church in the Modern World, where many problems facing the Church today are enumerated. The Church has noticed an increase of the calling of accepted values into question. (One quality of youth, we know, is vigour and zest for action which has been associated over past ages with a distrust for the contemporary society). These are based on youth's realization of his own social influence and his eagerness to use it sooner. It is noted that youth moves quickly into new social conditions but is unable to cope with the responsibilities. In answer to such questions, the Church wishes youth to divert their energies and ease of adaptation to the application of the Council's teachings, particularly in regard to lay apostolate activities. Deeper education and edification by elders should arouse a response of dialogue in youth. Youth should take on a new trust and respect for elders. Again zest for novelty must be balanced with an intelligent regard for worthwhile traditions. The new international outlook of youth (cf., the International Young Christian Students, the international conference of Young Christian Workers) is praised by the Church. Development of peaceful and fraternal communities, working to remove the imbalances, injustices and afflictions of today's world will result.

It is worthy to note that the last of the closing messages of the Council Fathers was directed towards youth. It offers the rejuvenation of the Church's image as a special help to youth. Tomorrow's society will be made by today's youth who must be active in promoting the dignity, liberty and individual rights of man. The Church will enkindle the light of youth that will in turn illumine the world. The Church warns youth of hedonism, atheism, despair, violence and egoism as the modern vices. A better world than that of their parents awaits youth who lead generous, pure, respectful, and sincere lives. The Church looks with love and confidence towards youth and strengthens their vigour as they set out on new conquests.

"Look upon the Church," this message concludes, "and you will find in her the face of Christ, the genuine, humble and wise Hero, the Prophet of truth and love, the Companion and Friend of youth. It is in the name of Christ that we salute you, that we exhort and bless you."

MORNING PRAYER

"Because it is the public prayer of the Church, the Divine Office is a source of piety and nourishment for personal prayer" (Constitution of the Sacred Liturgy. Art. 90).

"The laity, too, are encouraged to recite the Divine Office, either with the priests, or among themselves or even individually" Ib. Art 100.

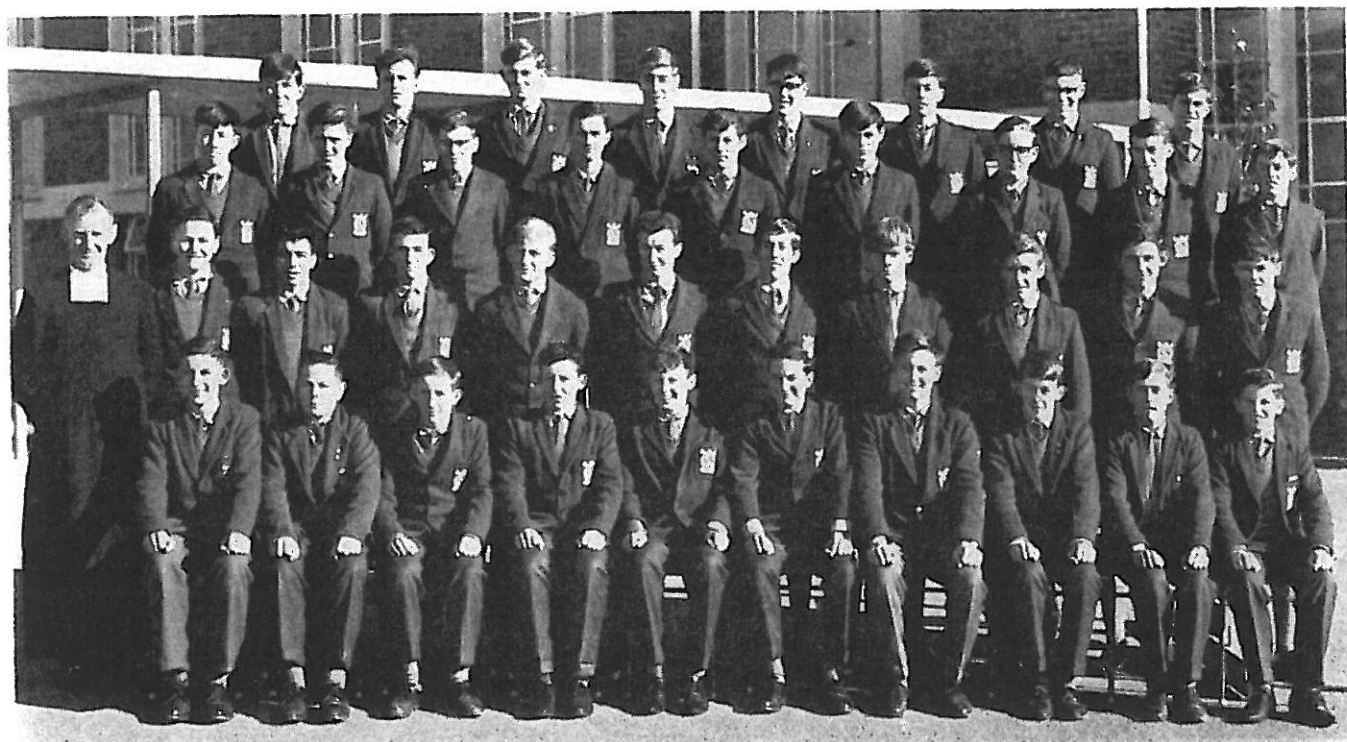

The Second Vatican Council will undoubtedly go down in history as the Council which drew the laity into a greater participation in the life of the Church. Documents and noble sentiments are of little use if they cannot be put into practice. The Church however does not ask us to do impossible things and we decided to test this proposition by introducing a section of the Divine Office into our class routine.

Our morning prayer has traditionally been three decades of the Rosary. We decided to substitute Lauds from the Divine Office. Suitable breviaries or office books are not yet available and each day has its own particular form of Lauds. It was decided to take the Lauds from the ferial or common office for Monday and insert the collect proper to each feast. The finished product fitted into two foolscap pages and a half quarto page of type.

There are four rows of desks in the classroom so the two choirs were easily assembled. One boy from each row was designated chorister and the class captain took over the role of president or abbot. With these preparations completed the experiment began.

At first the results were not encouraging. Some found it impossible to say the Office and watch the traffic in Tukapo Street or the sheep on the hill. Day-dreaming proved more difficult. The language of the psalms was strange. But patience and perseverance have paid off and we now recite Lauds as our morning prayer.

Some of the terms used so far may be strange to our readers so a word of explanation would not be out of place.

The word "Lauds" means praise and the whole emphasis is on the praise of Almighty God.

to the Father is said and the Antiphone is repeated by all. The second chorister now intones the second antiphon and the first chorister the third antiphon and so on until the psalms have been recited. The President then reads a short extract from the Scripture and then intones the first line of the Hymn which is recited by the two choirs alternately. The hymn we use is particularly beautiful. Here are a few verses.

1. Radiance of the Father's splendour that brings light from light
Come as the light of light
The source of light, the day that gives the days their light
6. Let Christ be our soul's food

Let us joyfully accept from the Spirit
The drink that soberly overpowers our soul.
7. Let this day pass for us in joy

Our faith strong like the noonday sun
And our soul unacquainted with the twilight regions of sin.

The Office concludes with the Canticle "Benedictus" or the Canticle of Zachary as it is called, and the reading by the President of the Collect or Prayer from the Mass of the day.

This then is one of our efforts to give reality to the directives of Vatican 11. It is to be hoped that some boys will continue to say this prayer of the Church for their morning prayers and Compline for their night prayer. It is what the Church wants and for that reason no other prayer could be more pleasing to Almighty God.

TARANAKI INTER-SECONDARY SCHOOLS SWIMMING CARNIVAL

This year the College entered a team of swimmers in the above championships for the first time in the history of the school. The sports were held on the 5th March at the Boys' High School. It was a beautiful day and the events went off very well.

Our team consisted of seventeen boys, who did quite well considering the fact that they had very little training and very little practice. Geoffrey Duxfield, Patrick Henderson, Brian Tracey, Tim Dwyer and the Junior Relay Team all earned places in the finals. Congratulations are due to these boys for their efforts.

A LOOK AT SOUTH VIETNAM TODAY

South Vietnam South Vietnam! Everywhere I look today in a newspaper, I see that same name. South Vietnam. Yes, there seems to be something going on over in that country in South East Asia called South Vietnam. The papers, magazines, T.V. and radio news all have plenty to say about South Vietnam—how the people live; how the people die; how the people suffer; the peasants; its political strife; U.S.A. and China whose interests clash there today. Yes, without a doubt this country is the focal point of the world today.

It would be interesting to know what the peasant farmer living ten miles from Saigon, in a little mud and straw hut, and who had lost his wife and daughter in a Vietcong raid two weeks before, thinks of the fighting that is going on in his country? Also what he thinks of those American soldiers who trample his rice fields, but, who say they are saving his country? Does he owe them thanks? Interesting questions! I wonder what his answer would be?

The endurance of the South Vietnamese women seems to be extraordinary, for women can be seen working on the wharfs lifting the heavy imports etc.

Saigon itself hasn't escaped this undeclared war. Buildings shattered by a Vietcong grenade; off duty American soldiers lounging in the cafes; Vietnamese police patrolling the streets; yes these are some of the grim reminders to the Vietnamese people, but despite the fact that a war rages around them, the people can be found buying and selling in the market place.

Saigon, the city of bright lights and high, modern buildings, gives way to rice fields and clusters of simple dwellings, as one moves further inland. And here it is that you notice the contrast the war has brought to South Vietnam. For, nestling among the rice fields under the hills of central Vietnam, you find airfields and army bases, with modern buildings and modern planes. On a road in South Vietnam you might see a huge modern tank lumbering along beside an ox-drawn cart.

A touchy point in South Vietnam today is its political strife. Military coups have been numerous over the last twelve years. And even today immediate settlement doesn't seem evident. Even though elections were held a while ago.

Michael Johnston, F. 4A.

TWO AGES OF MAN

At a recent meeting in St. Louis of scientists, theologians and philosophers, a stark yet simple statement which concerns us all was made. The statement was to the effect that the United States and the Soviet Union, between them now possess more than enough bombs to burn off this planet all forms of life. It was also pointed out that certain leaders of governments have hinted that nothing would be held back in the event of war. There is, however, something far more horrible than the fact that the means of total extermination of all life are at hand. Far more horrible is the possibility that some, just a few million, could survive such a war. How would they live?

In the early months following the first atomic attack on human beings at Hiroshima, stories sprang up about the hideous by-products of radioactivity. There were visions of future generations of freaks that would be the legacy of another war. The government now cannot provide any real reassurance against the effects of radioactivity in case of an atomic war; for indeed there is no such reassurance to be had. It is left for anyone to guess whether man would go down or up in society in the event of another war. Perhaps, then, man would at last strive to protect himself from his own intellect that had dealt with him so severely. But what of the nature of man? The human uniqueness—what form will it take? Will it be the once highest of earthly beings turned into a mumbling, helpless creature foraging to sustain a senseless life? Are these just scare stories? Nightmares? Or are they the product of an onrushing reality?

It is true that the rights of the state are many. But no state has got the right to strike at the face of nature, to disfigure the nature of man or to play with the balance that makes life for man possible. Man has a right to protect himself against such a system and to keep himself from being cheapened or deformed. He has a right to creative growth and to make his life purposeful. If his natural rights should die though human life in some form remain, then the survivors would not be the lucky ones.

Despite the many categories of the historian there are really only two ages of man. The first age, the age from the beginning of recorded time to the present—the age of war. The second age, still only a prospect—the age of civilised man; using his inventiveness for the good of the world.

Dennis Bourke, F. 4B.

THE BEGGAR BOY

It was in England one cold night, a little boy and his mother were lying in a passage way. They were beggars and they had nothing of their own except the few clothes that they wore.

It was Christmas Eve and outside it was snowing. Christmas was nothing to the beggar boy, it was just another day to him. Time went by and he went over to see his mother; his mother was lying still, cold as ice. The boy, frightened and crying, knew his mother was dead.

He ran out of the passage way into the cold frozen air and walked into the shopping area where there was a large crowd around a shop. With curiosity the boy went over to the window and in it was a set of poppets dancing and talking. The beggar boy didn't know whether to laugh or cry but before he could do anything he felt a sharp pain in his ribs and his cap flying from his head.

The beggar boy ran away scared until he came to a stack of wood. He was lying amongst the wood trying to get as much warmth as he could when suddenly he was in a place of which he had never dreamed. There was a Christmas tree and lots of children like himself dancing around it. When the children saw him they welcomed him, kissed him and then out of nowhere he heard his mother calling him. With much happiness he sprang into his mother's arms. Then he heard a voice, the kindest voice he had ever heard before, say to him 'Welcome to my home, the Kingdom of God.'

The next morning a porter found in a stack of wood a little boy's body frozen stiff. He had died in the night. We know that he is now in heaven, in everlasting happiness.

COWS—OUR NATIONAL ASSET

Besides their milk and meat, New Zealand's bovine population contributes one great asset to the economy: their hide is used in the leather of footballs.

Each year, thousands of cows journey to the slaughterhouse content in the knowledge that their hide, inflated with air, will bring pleasure to millions of footy fans throughout the land. For the uninitiated, a 'footy fan' is one of the lost souls who, each Saturday peregrinates towards Rugby Park, the fan's citadel. The time-honoured spectacle they have come to watch is called Rugger, with a capital 'R'.

This game is played with two teams each of fifteen men, whose aim is to touch this inflated cowhide behind a line called a 'Goal-line'. The game begins when the 'referee', a sort of adjudicator dressed in white—all the ladies love white—blows a whistle, which signals the 'kick-off'.

During the course of the game, after some naughty lad has made an infringement, the forwards, who are the eight fattest men in the team, gather together to discuss the latest dieting methods. This huddled humanity is called a 'scrum'. The secret is in not allowing the backs—the other seven men in the team—to hear these dieting secrets.

While the 'scrum' is in progress, a man called a 'half-back'—I never could find out why—throws the ball in between the teams' legs, and they all start kicking and fighting like a lot of little boys. Most puerile.

Then one of the forwards gets a mite peeved, and throws the ball at one of the backs, who then throws it to his friends, and they have a short game of throwing. This is called 'passing'. If the ball goes outside a marked square, they have a 'line-out', during which both teams line up their forwards—the men who have the most fun—and each jumps for the ball so that he can throw it to his backs for another game of passing.

The game ends when the referee gets hungry, and gives another blow to his whistle.

THE EMPIRE STATE BUILDING

This was built on the site of the Waldorf Astoria, a hotel thirty stories high. On October 1st, 1929, workmen began to demolish this old hotel. On May 1st, 1931, exactly eighteen months later the Empire State Building was formally opened by Mr. A. E. Smith, the chairman of the company which built it.

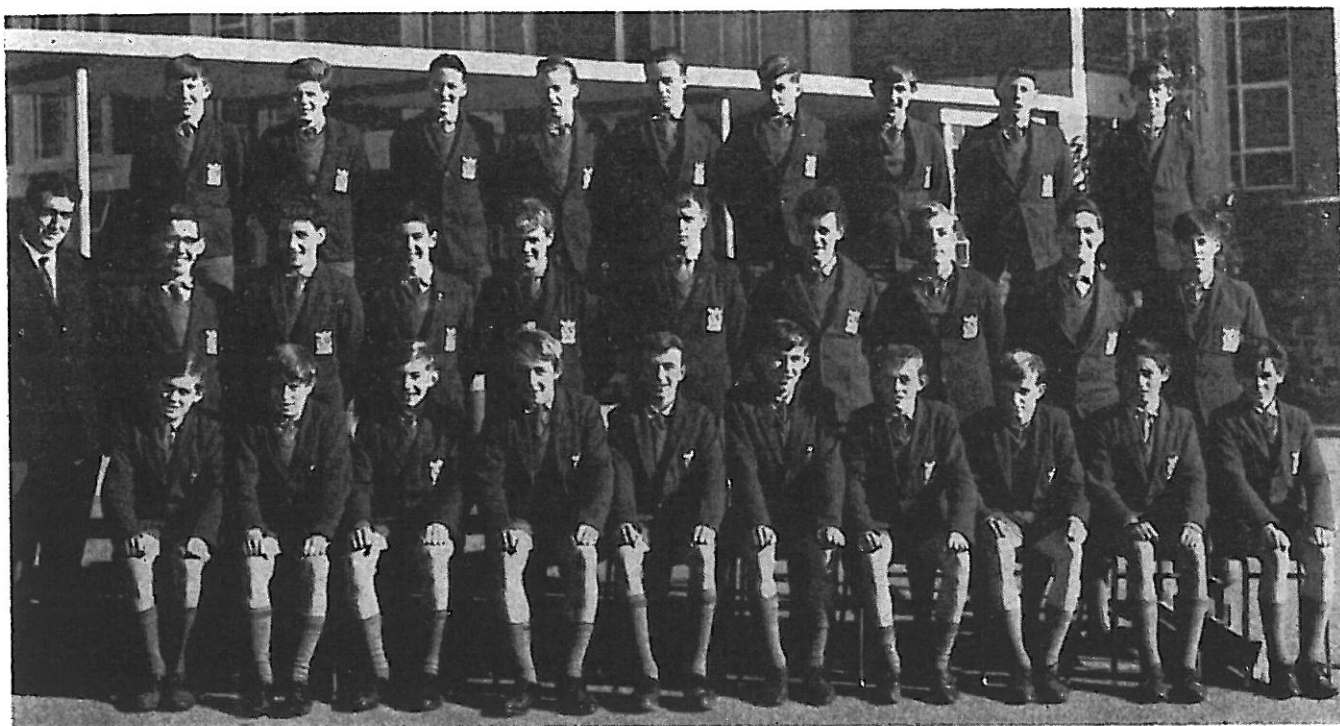

The building covers two acres of ground. To support it in the soft soil great piers of concrete were sunk to a depth of about eighty feet. There are two million, one hundred and fifty-eight thousand square feet of office space. Also it contains enough rooms for twenty-five thousand tenants, seventy-five elevators, one hundred and two stories, and observation stations at the eighty-sixth and the hundred and second stories. Its height is one thousand, four hundred and seventy-two feet above street level.

TRANSISTORS

A transistor is an electronic device consisting of a small piece of semiconducting solid (usually germanium or silicon) to which contact is made at appropriate places by three wires. The three parts resemble in function (not construction or behaviour) the cathode, anode and grid of a thermionic valve, and transistors can perform many of the operations that valves have hitherto been used for in radio, television, etc. They possess several advantages over valves since there is no need for evacuated glass bulbs nor for a heated emitter to give off electrons. This leads to much greater compactness and economy as well as to a much longer life. Nevertheless, there are certain limitations to their use, and they are not yet suitable as substitutes for valves in all cases. The device was invented by the Americans, Bardeen, Brattain, and Shockly in 1948 and has assumed vast technological importance.

PLAYING GOLF

Many people play golf to soothe their tattered nerves. But it is quite amusing to look into the mind of just such a person while playing golf.

The mind is at ease as he approaches the first tee, but all goes blank as he stands over the ball.

"It's a Hit!" Is it a hook or a slice? Did I lean too much to left or right? Brow now knit with tension, he seeks advice from his partner. His ball is behind a tree, which obviously is blocking the way to the green.

The strain has proved too much for this player—he uses the back of his putter!

THE RED LAMP—TELLS ITS OWN STORY

The photo shows the sanctuary lamp as it hangs in the College Chapel. Many years ago this same lamp hung in the sanctuary in the church from which Father Francis V. Douglas administered to his flock in the Philippine Islands. We were fortunate to obtain this "relic". The parts broken or lost we replaced and now the red lamp reminds us of how Father Douglas responded to the Master's Love. "Love for Love and Blood for Blood."

"The lone lamp softly burns,
And a wondrous silence reigns;
Only with a low still voice
The Holy One complains;

Long, long I've waited here,
And though thou heed'st not Me,
The heart of God's own Son
Beats ever on for thee."

MARY AND WHAT THEY SAY OF HER

... Hail, full of Grace, the Lord is with you ... you will conceive and bear a son and you shall call his name Jesus ... (Luke 1:28, 31)

... And they (shepherds) went with haste and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. (Luke 2:16)

... Woman, behold your son! ...
Behold your mother! (John 19:27)

... Mary was full of grace for the common benefit, so that all men might share it"
(St. Thomas Aquinas)

... All our activities will take on a Marian character if we use St. Louis de Montfort's formula: "To perform all one's actions through Mary, with Mary, in Mary and for Mary in order to do them more perfectly through Jesus, with Jesus, in Jesus, and for Jesus."

... No, nothing can celebrate her worthily, neither the language of men, nor the intelligence of angels, however sublime it may be; for it is in her and through her that the glory of the Lord has been given to our mortal sight.

(St. John Damascene)

... Ah, what more can I say to you? She is my mother. (St. Stanislaus)

YOUNG CHRISTIAN STUDENTS SOCIETY

This year Form 6A comprised our Y.C.S. group. Meetings were held fortnightly for an hour on a Wednesday. Some lively discussions included: Student Environment, Pocket Money, Films and Literature.

In the first term Michael Kelly, Denis Moynihan and John Watson attended the Combined Wellington Archdiocese's Y.C.S. Study Day at St. Augustine's College, Wanganui, to compare and improve the administration of our own society. In the third term Mick Kelly, Brian Tracey and three lower form delegates Mick Parsons, Jim Martin and Murray Wackrow attended a similar study day, introducing the latter three to the function of the Y.C.S. society.

This year proved to be a relatively active year: A collection on the 'Archdiocese Family Fast Day', sending of Y.C.S. information to an Australian College; suggestions to introduce a school savings scheme. Meetings were very well attended. We hope that next year's group shows the interest and dedication to the society which was evident this year.

Finally our gratitude must go to Dr. Doogan for his interest and spiritual advice, despite his many parish duties.

Team

Standing: J. Ballantyne, R. Darroch.

Seated: P. Karalus, M. Kelly (Captain), C. Coleman, V. Duoba.

THE ORATORY SOCIETY

The activities of the society were more restricted this year than formerly. Soon after the resumption of school, preparations were under way for the annual competitions but general interest was difficult to arouse and sustain.

Prior to competing in the Federated Catholic Clubs' competitions at Sacred Heart College, Lower Hutt, the team had a practice debate against Sacred Heart, New Plymouth. In the competition we were outclassed, John Ballantyne in the Religious Questions, Roger Darroch in the Oratory, and Christopher Coleman in the Elocution fared well without gaining places.

We all thank Brother Kieran for a good trip and wish next year's team success at Napier.

LADIES' AUXILIARY

The Parent-Teacher Association has again had a busy year. Sincere thanks are due to all members of our association for their generous efforts in all our undertakings.

The election of Office-Bearers for 1966 resulted:

President—Mrs. D. Scott
 Secretary—Mrs. E. Herlihy.

The Annual Sports Day was this year combined with the Sacred Heart Girls' College. It was a successful event. Morning and afternoon teas were served. Gala Day was held on Saturday, April 2nd. The profits from this went towards the college tennis courts. Thanks to all our many friends for a wonderful afternoon of entertainment. The profits from the annual raffle also went towards the tennis courts. These are a costly item, but are much needed, and will certainly be appreciated. The tuck shop continues to function on Mondays; mothers only needing to help one day per term to prepare lunches.

In conclusion, we express our sincere thanks to Brother Julian and his assistants, to the college Matron and her staff, and to all who have assisted the association in any way.

MEN'S AUXILIARY REPORT

The Francis Douglas College Men's Auxiliary met each term during 1966. The third meeting was really a combined ladies'-men's auxiliaries gathering, at which we were addressed by Brother Julian, Director, who thanked the parents on the Brothers' behalf for their work during the year, and stressed that he wanted us to feel that the College facilities were available for our use too.

Here are some other items from our minutes:

Last year's successful Gala Day was discussed fully, and plans for Gala Day 1967 have been inaugurated.

Construction, in concrete, of the tennis courts, is well on the way; there have been preliminary discussions about a swimming pool.

There has been a suggestion that the present separate ladies' and men's committees be replaced by a combined "parents and friends" committee. This will be a matter of discussion at the next Annual General Meeting. It is also proposed to re-establish regional committees in our Taranaki towns.

Father Francis Douglas's own Sanctuary Lamp has been mounted as a permanent fixture in the College Chapel.

A. DUNLOP, President.
 P. DWYER, Secretary.

Mr. P. DWYER
Secretary of the Men's Committee

ARCHAEOLOGY

Archaeology is a subject I enjoy reading about and later in life I hope to be active in the science.

I find Egyptian archaeology fascinating but I guess I'll have to save in a big way in order to visit and "dig" in Egypt.

I have read books on the subject written by De Perthes, Evans, Woolly, and Schlieman but the last named is my favourite. It was Schlieman who discovered the ancient and legendary city of Troy. It was on the top of an earth-covered hill. Actually when the first city was excavated other cities were discovered below the top one—eight in all. After much study and examining Schlieman concluded that the city fourth from the top was Troy. Great riches were also found.

What a thrill it must be to delve and discover the "past ages." Archaeologists have found how cavemen lived and used their tools. Romans must have treasures buried in many parts of Europe and northern Africa and the British Isles too must have buried secrets from the Roman days.

I look forward to my days of "digging." It is a long road and I know I must hasten slowly but I am confident I will come to the turn in the road and then to dig, dig and dig.

M. Allison, (Form I)

A ROUND OF SPORT

Who's for sport? What would you like to play. Swimming, basketball, cricket, athletics, shooting, rugby, soccer, tennis to be, golf, a little badminton, gymnastics, handball or table-tennis.

Our college caters, or does its best to cater for these sports and other activities on the sports field. Every boy should participate in a sport suitable for him. As the facilities improve and the necessary equipment arrives, there will be no reason for any boy to be unwilling to take part in any one sport.

Some boys have done so well in sport that they have won prizes and trips around New Zealand and even to Australia. There can never be too many sports activities, but there can be too much sport. Our College sports time is regulated and I don't think our academic subjects are affected.

In future our scope will probably be even larger. Sports like billiards, boxing, fencing and indoor bowls will take up more room. Some teachers may become full time sports instructors. The purpose of sport is to teach boys leadership among other things. A boy's leadership on the sports field will change in later life to leadership in church activities, in business so helping to make our world a better place in which to live.

1966 Diary of Events

JANUARY

Monday 31st—Back to school once more, those holidays certainly 'whiz' by. Apprehensive newcomers and smug regulars arrive for another year's work. The 'oldsters' disappointed to see that Brother Justinian has left for fields afar, but greeted his replacement Brother Gerard. Tennis courts still not completed.

FEBRUARY

Tuesday 1st—Classes sorted to the satisfaction of some. Some new faces in higher classes.

Wednesday 2nd—The familiar ring of cadet commanders heralds the beginning of the five day Annual Barracks week for forms 4, 5 and 6. During the week the unit was inspected by Lt. Col. Skelton of Wellington. Another highlight was the overnight bivouac on Mr. Keegan's York Road property for platoons one and two. This week was Form Four's first taste of Army life, and at the conclusion of the week they were shaping quite well.

Saturday 12th—First Cricket matches for the various elevens, Firsts, Seconds and Thirds—much practice needed!!
Tractor gets stuck in swamp; S.O.S. to all boys over 10 stone!

Monday 14th—Prefects announced at special assembly. Dennis Moynihan is the College Captain for 1966. he is the second boarder to attain that position. Very pleasing to see Monsignor Minogue able to make the presentation despite his continued ill-health.

Friday 18th—Our First Swimming Carnival was held at Kawaroa Olympic Pool. The programme commenced at 1.30 with the senior events first, then gradually moving down through the different grades and divisions finishing with the relays. There were free-style, breaststroke, backstroke and butterfly events in all divisions, accompanied by diving competitions. Excitement was maintained by Brother Peter on the microphone. Cheers and shouts greeted wins by different houses as their supporters vied with one another to give encouragement to the swimmers. Solomon house was the overall winner, closely followed by Benildus. On behalf of the boys I would like to thank the Brothers and Lay-teachers and all who helped to make the carnival the great success that it turned out to be. We hope it will continue to be so in the coming years.

H. Ford, 5A

Monday 21st—The First Parent-Teachers Meeting for the year. Parents had the opportunity of meeting the Teachers and discussing their problems. Despite the weather a great attendance—parents coming from far and near, in fact as far afield as Feilding.

Y.C.S. Meeting

MARCH

Saturday 5th—A School Swimming team competed in the Taranaki Secondary Schools Championships held at the New Plymouth

Boys' High School. All did their best which meant that some had to be content with minor places. However some first places were recorded in heats and places in finals. Considering lack of practice and the fact that this was our first time in swimming championships we did very well. Congrats to all boys concerned.

Friday 11th—Last year's gymnastic squad went to Pukekura Park to watch the touring Danish Gymnastic Team perform. All very much impressed.

Sunday 13th—Annual Sports Day. Another first for this year. A combined Sacred Heart Girls' College and Francis Douglas College sports. Races were run alternately. The weather was fine, a very large crowd attended. The sports proved a huge success, competition was of a high standard, and as a result some very good records were created. The grades were slightly different, being Senior, Intermediate and Junior as in the Secondary Schools Competitions. The hero of the day was Vic Duoba, who by winning everything from the hundred yards to the mile earned himself the Senior cup. An innovation was the use of two-way radio sets to speed up the relaying of results. Another enjoyable day for all.

Monday 14th—Taranaki Anniversary Day. Boarders hold annual picnic at Urenui Beach. Much fun was had on the mudflats and in the river while 'surfers' also enjoyed themselves in the renowned Urenui surf.

Monday 21st—Father Doogan starts first of twelve talks on the purpose of the recent Ecumenical Council. Local Traffic Officer, Mr. Scholes, lectures upper class on youthful driving and its problems.

Wednesday 23rd—Forms 4, 5 and 6 watch 'A Comedy of Errors', a Shakespearean play performed by the New Zealand Theatre Company at the Opera House.

School Cross Country

Saturday 26th—School Athletic Team competes in the Taranaki Secondary Schools Athletic Sports held at Stratford Technical High School in almost perfect weather. Competition was of a very high standard. Many records were bettered but most were wind assisted and as a result only two were allowed. One of these was the 880 yards Junior record in which Paul Brennan broke Brian Rose's long standing record. This year was probably the College's best year with placings in both field and track events. Some disappointments and also some surprises, but all will remember Mick Parsons' great hurdles win.

Tuesday 29th—Football already, as Mr. L. Walsh holds a run around to pick a shadow first fifteen squad. Speculation rife on many positions in team.

APRIL

Friday 1st—Contingent of boarders go to New Plymouth Girls' High to see Sheridan's play 'She Stoops to Conquer.'

Saturday 2nd—Gala Day. A fine day to culminate the great work of the Mothers and Fathers in conjunction with Brother Peter.

Sunday 3rd—Hawera High School First and Second Fifteens give our teams a taste of the new Rugby season. Our teams both successful. Many players still short of wind but teams are taking shape quite well.

Thursday 7th—A few days off for Easter. Welcome rest for all.

Sunday 17th—Boarders attempt to break, unofficially, the national handshake record!

Monday 25th—Anzac Day. Cadet Unit marches down Devon Street in Anzac Day Procession. The school band plays to keep us all in step!

Tuesday 26th—Many worried and gloomy faces. Exams?!

MAY

Friday 6th—End of round one, home to Mum.

Monday 23rd—Forlorn looking individuals reappear as boarders return after a fortnight's holiday. Father Uhlenberg's familiar smile sadly absent, as he is in Calvary Hospital, Hawera.

Saturday 28th—All the football teams away to a flying start—some are topping the ladder already.

JUNE

Wednesday 1st—Mr. and Mrs. D. Gadson commence dancing lessons so we will at least know how to shuffle correctly at this term's school dance.

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Top to bottom, right: Pyramids, Handball, Picnic at Urenui, Feast of St. De La Salle.

Sunday 5th—Old Boys hold their annual reunion, which is a great success, judging by the the number of old boarders present. All South (Main) Island past boarders present on this occasion. Form six invited to the usual social, after the Old Boys 'fifteen' beat the present day Firsts.

Monday 6th—Queen's Birthday. A welcome holiday. The boarders tear themselves away from 'Study' and go to the pictures.

Friday 10th—Sees the beginning of the golf coaching classes, by local professional coach Mr. J. Lambie. About this time a basketball appears in the school gymnasium. Soon the sound of running feet on the floor will be familiar. Brother Gerard begins coaching the rough and tumble the finer points of the game.

Sunday 19th—We have advanced far enough to arrange a game against the Boys' High basketball team. We are beaten, but have gained valuable experience and determined to atone for this defeat later on.

JULY

Saturday 2nd—We all go to Rugby Park and watch the Lions 'trounce' Taranaki.

Sunday 3rd—The First Fifteen from St. Augustine's Wanganui plays our Firsts. We win, but only just, 17-16. Some very relieved faces at the end of the game.

A group of boys journey to Stratford to referee the Taranaki Catholic Primary Schools' Tournament.

Monday 11th—Books away for a few days as the retreat is upon us. Monday and Tuesday, Forms 5 and 6; Wednesday and Thursday for Form 4. The retreat master is Rev. Fr. Richard, O.F.M.

Friday 15th—The Feast Day of St. John Baptist De La Salle. A holiday after the celebration of Mass. Boarders trek some to the pictures and others up the mountain. High tea in the evening very welcome.

Thursday 21st—The school assembled in the gym. to listen to addresses by the National Party Member for Wellington Central Mr. D. Riddiford, together with the local National Party Candidate Mr. B. Clarke.

Monday 25th—Mission Day, an annual affair, in which the boys spend at different stalls with the proceeds donated to the Missions. The grand total of £55 was raised.

Friday 29th—Senior Classes watch a special showing of the film of the Shakespearean tragedy 'Hamlet' which starred Sir Lawrence Olivier.

AUGUST

Wednesday 3rd—Cadets once more and so back to 'footslogging.'

Friday 5th—Forms five and six out in force to the Annual Sacred Heart Girls' Dance. Many friends made but one night is not enough.

Monday 8th—Back to 'Terra Firma.' Exams already.

Wednesday 10th—Annual Boarders v. Dayboys Rugby Matches. Three divisions Senior, under ten stone and under eight stone. The Boarders won the Senior game 14-12 when a thrilling last minute try turned near defeat into victory. Scores in other games Under 10 stone Boarders 6, Day Boys 3; Under 8 stone Day Boys 8, Boarders 3.

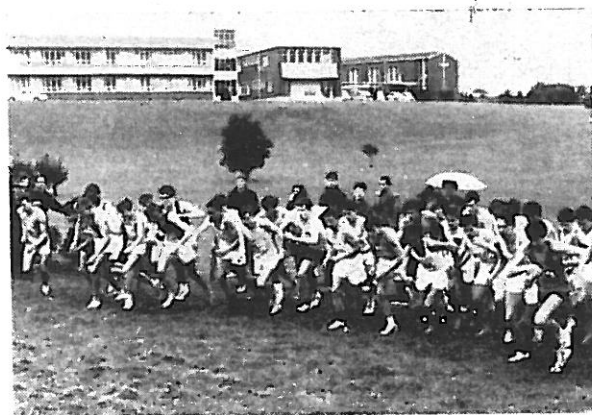

Friday 12th—Sacred Heart Girls' repay the "compliment" and come to our Dance. Thanks to the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. D. Gadson, who had conducted dancing lessons for us during the term, most were able to enjoy themselves. Our own boys played during the supper time. Supper, of course, was provided by the Ladies' Auxiliary. Everyone enjoyed themselves and are looking forward to more.

Monday 15th—Welcome break from Study. The feast of the Assumption.—Holy day of obligation.

Thursday 18th—The Firsts and under Ten Stone team travel to Auckland for the annual game against De La Salle College, Mangere East. A primary team from Blenheim arrives to play the primary at Rugby. Blenheim team proves too good for the locals.

Friday 19th—Happy farewells as home we go. News from Auckland travels fast. Evening paper carries news of wins against our sister college. The first time we have won both games for some years.

Saturday 20th—Visitors to Auckland see a Ranfurly Shield game, Auckland v. Canterbury. What a game!

Start of Inter-Secondary Cross Country

Sunday 21st—Teams travel back from Auckland after having enjoyed the brilliant sunshine and hospitality. Peter Roebuck and Jim Martin leave for their tour of New South Wales with the Taranaki Secondary Schools Team which proved to be an unbeatable combination over the Tasman.

SEPTEMBER

Monday 12th—Return for third term. Some for the last time, others ! ?

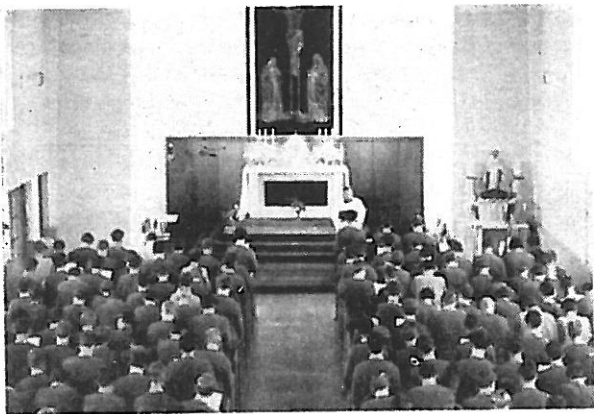

Sunday 19th—Several seniors represent the school by attending a Y.C.S. (Young Christian Students) meeting at St. Augustine's Wanganui.

Monday 20th—Serious thought to the running of the Inter Secondary Schools Cross Country which will be held on our course this year. Many intensify their training.

Saturday 24th—The newly formed basketball team travels to Hawera for the Inter Schools tournament. We played three games and although we did not win any we can say that we gained valuable experience which will help us in the future. Nothing but praise for our outfit and behaviour. A probable invitation to enter a tourney at Wanganui will result.

Wednesday 28th—Schools Cross Country Trials. Boarders v. Dayboys to select the inter secondary team. A few dark horses.

Friday 30th—Photos of all school sports teams. A break from the regular routine.

Scripture Service October 7th

OCTOBER

Friday 7th—In obedience to the Holy Father Pope Paul, we had a day of Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament. The Blessed Sacrament was exposed for adoration after the nine o'clock Mass. Various classes kept up visits during the day. At 1.20 a special Scripture Service entitled, "The Three Classes of Men" was held, presided over by Rev. Fr.

Doogan. Readers were Denis Moynihan, Robert Watt and Jim Martin.

Saturday 8th—Inter Secondary Schools Cross Country on our course. Many asked to help with the organization of the day. The rain, which fell continually during the morning, did not daunt the runners or the spectators. Our boys did very well. Noel Karalus winning the Intermediate and Paul Brennan coming second in the Junior. The Junior team also won the teams' race in their section.

Wednesday 12th—The Cadet Day, for which we had been practising so much, is finally here. Inspecting Officers from Wellington arrive to carry out inspection of unit for the Riddiford Cup. They also inspected Officer Cadet Peter Roebuck who had been nominated by this division for the Friar Memorial Trophy. Ceremonial Parade was very impressive. Good coverage by local newspapers. Junior B and C School Cross Country was held today. Chris Dwyer and Brian Hall were division winners.

Tuesday 18th—Form five and six boarders rise early to do some extra swot in the quiet of the morning.

Wednesday 19th—School Cross Country held today. House Championship results depend on this event so competition is keen. Benildus are leading Championship up till this event. Loreto house are the winners today.

Thursday 20th—Press Shield Shoot this afternoon.

Friday 21st—Home for Labour Weekend.

Monday 24th—Back for the final stretch. Less than a month till the S.C. and other exams.

Sunday 30th—Procession round the College Grounds in Honour of Christ the King. This has special significance this year as Pope Paul has asked for special prayers for peace during October.

NOVEMBER

(In anticipation as we go to print)

Tuesday 1st—All Saints Day—holiday, a rest before the last effort.

Friday 4th—Bivouac for the weekend for the N.C.O.'s.

Saturday 12th—.303 shoot for the School Shooting Team.

Monday 21st—School Certificate begins today. French Dictation for Scholarship.

Wednesday 23rd—Scholarship and Bursary Examinations begin.

Monday 28th—University Entrance is upon us.

DECEMBER

Friday 2nd—School Certificate is, at last, over.

Sunday 4th—Annual concert and prize giving.

Peter Winter, Anthony Schicker, 5A.

OLD BOYS' ASSOCIATION

It is both heartening and reassuring to hear, as often as we now do, of Old Boys who are making good in their various careers and who are a credit to the Church, their families and the College. Already it is becoming common-place to hear of ex-F.D.C. boys who are giving a lead in Catholic parish work and in secular cultural activities throughout New Zealand.

Although the College is still in its first decade of existence, our score of Old Boys is at present about four hundred. Many of them have moved to places far afield in New Zealand and some are overseas; nevertheless, most of them contrive to keep in contact with the College one way or another. News of Old Boys—especially good news—is always welcome. The Association hopes to keep closer contact with members in the New Year by means of a regularly circulated Newsletter.

ANNUAL REUNION

The Annual Reunion, held on Queen's Birthday Weekend, was our most successful yet. Over one hundred Old Boys came from as far away as Christchurch, Auckland and Napier. We were especially pleased to see a large contingent up from Blenheim.

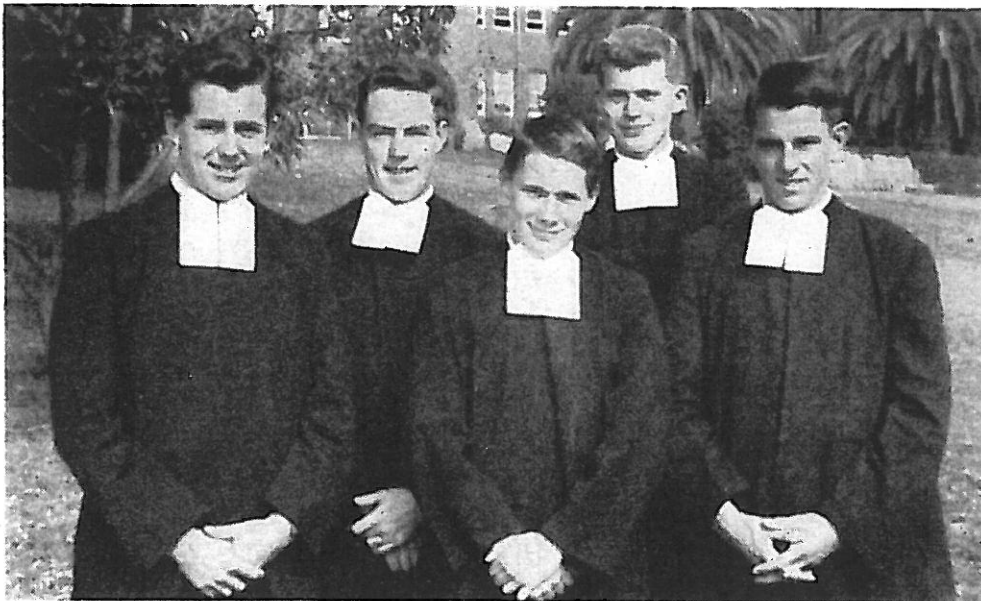

The programme included the annual Rugby game against the College Firsts (won by the Old Boys!), the Reunion Dinner, Annual General Meeting, Evening Mass in the College Chapel, and a Grand Social at night. The presence of so many Old Boys bore eloquent testimony to their interest in their Association and their continued loyalty to the College. Many expressed their appreciation of the various functions. Full marks to Des Bezzant and his organising committee.

President of O.B.A., Des Bezzant

NEW LIFE MEMBER

One of the resolutions passed at the Annual General Meeting deserves special mention. This was the resolution appointing Mr. Leo Walsh as an Honorary Life Member of the Association. There are few Old Boys who have not at some time or another had occasion to be grateful to Leo for his unselfish efforts on their behalf both at school and later as Old Boys. His appointment as an Honorary Life Member was a fitting expression of esteem on the part of the Association. We record the resolution with pleasure.

COMMITTEE

The Committee elected by the Annual General Meeting is as follows: Des Bezzant (President), Kevin Harrison (Vice President), Harry Van Beers (Secretary), Jon Mardon (Treasurer), and Brian Schicker, Peter Winstanley, Graham Payne, Gerald Moriarty and Graham Bocock (Committee Members). These men have already done much to get our young Association onto an organised and administrable basis. We hope that Old Boys everywhere will see some of the fruit of their efforts very shortly.

LAPEL BADGE

Early this year the Committee approved the design of a lapel badge for members of the Association. The badge, which has been available for some time now, is neat and attractive, and has been very popularly received by Old Boys. The original design was submitted by a Fourth-Form boarder at the College, Peter Gardiner of Blenheim.

LAST YEAR'S SENIORS

In previous years the College magazine has endeavoured to give a wide coverage of what individual Old Boys are doing. We have decided to let this approach rest for a year or two, and to point out chiefly what has become of the previous year's senior class.

From last year's Upper Sixth Form, VAUGHAN CHAPMAN, HUGH GIRLING-BUTCHER and MURRAY MACE have commenced their studies for Science Degrees at Victoria University of Wellington. FRANK DUNLOP has begun his degree in Food Technology at Massey University. BRIAN WALSH is working in a Stratford office. ERIC MARINOVICH is doing a B.Com. at Wellington University. JOHN BOURKE is at the same centre of learning studying Medicine. STEFAN MOCHNACKI has commenced an Engineering degree at Christchurch. JOHN ROSS and NIGEL FITZGERALD are both at Auckland University; John is studying law and Nigel architecture. We wish all these Old Boys well in their chosen careers.

COLLEGE OLD BOYS TEAMS

Last year College Old Boys fielded Third and Fourth Grade football teams in the local competition. The photographs of these first Old Boys teams were not available when last year's magazine went to the printer, and we are taking the liberty of publishing them this year. The Third Grade did well again in 1966; but unfortunately the transfer of several good players to other parts of New Zealand and some apparent lack of support from local Old Boys militated against success.

Officer Cadet P. Roebuck
Senior Shooting Champion

This year the College Cadet Unit can claim to have reached the stage where it can compete with confidence against any New Zealand school in every phase of army cadet training. Twice in the past three years the College has produced the most outstanding N.C.O. in the Central Military District; several times have our shooting teams topped Area and District competitions; and, as this magazine goes to the printer, we have just completed a full training day under the close scrutiny of visiting Officers from H.Q. in Wellington, as Area 8's nomination for the Riddiford Cup—a much coveted and valuable trophy which is awarded every year to the most efficient Cadet Unit of the Central Military District. We feel that our Unit has made commendable progress to achieve a high standard in the short time since it was inaugurated.

N.C.O.'s

Much of the credit for the Unit's achievement for 1966 must go, as always, to the N.C.O.s. Again this year we have had a very efficient and co-operative group of leaders. Two boys who have been prepared to sacrifice holidays, time and effort on behalf of the College Unit are our two Officer Cadets, Peter Roebuck and John Watson. These boys both gained very good results at the month-long Officer Cadet Course at Papakura in January. Peter's illness during the last week of this course was a stroke of bad luck which probably cost him the Sword of Honour; his report reads in part: 'Had he completed the course he would probably have passed out as the top cadet.' This is no small praise, as the Officer Cadet course is attended by the outstanding cadets from all over New Zealand. We congratulate Peter and John on the impressive standard they have reached, and we wish Peter every success as the Area nomination for this year's Friar Prize.

The College Cadet Unit

W.O.I Michael Parsons was appointed Unit R.S.M. after successfully completing the Warrant Officers course at Papakura in January. Throughout the year Mick has given an exemplary lead to fellow-N.C.O.s and to the cadets. His good voice, bearing and high standard of efficiency show promise of a future Friar Prize Winner. Other boys who were successful at the Warrant Officers Course were Gerald Watt, Frank Roebuck and Paul Dwyer who were appointed C.S.M.'s in the rank of W.O.11.

To all the N.C.O.s we express our thanks, and especially to those who gave up part of their holidays to attend camps. Congratulations to this latter group; once again our boys topped the Senior N.C.O. course, and our first year cadets doing the N.C.O. Qualification Course gained a 90% pass.

Officer Cadet J. Watson

W.O.I. Michael Parsons, R.S.M.

BIVOUACS

The Training Directive for the New Zealand Cadet Corps requires senior cadets to complete a two-day bivouac each year. The Army provides transport, rations, tents and other equipment, and the programme includes many aspects of Bushcraft and Fieldcraft as well as the Jungle Firing Lane and night battle exercises. Understandably enough, the cadets look forward to this slice of their training.

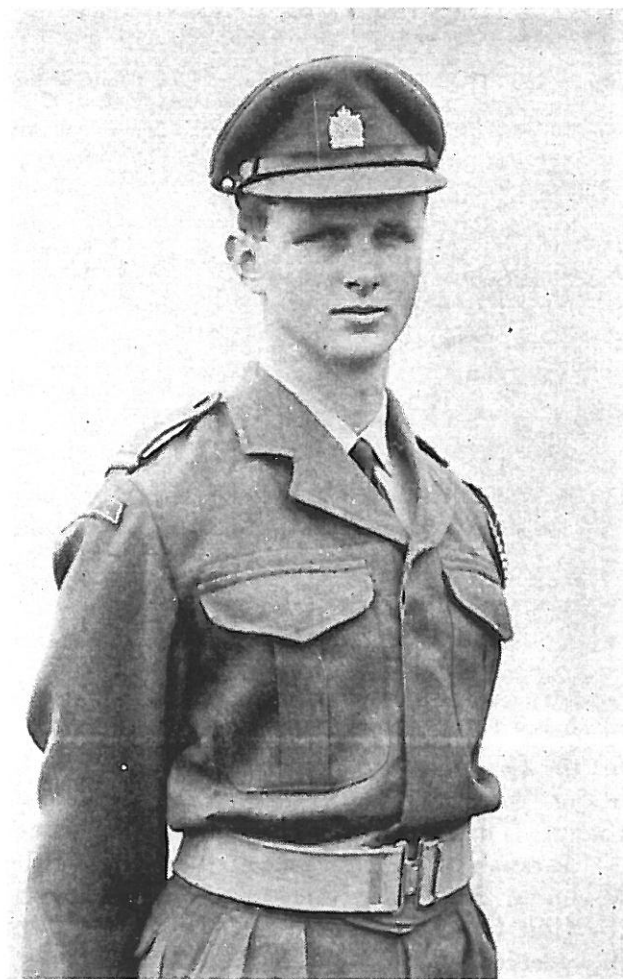

Two bivouacs are held by the Unit each year—one for senior cadets and one for N.C.O.s. At present we are preparing for our second N.C.O. bivouac which promises to be even more successful than last year's.

Stage III cadets leave for bivouac

AWARDS

The award for the Most Efficient N.C.O. in the Unit goes this year to Officer Cadet Peter Roebuck. The award for the Most Efficient Stage I Cadet goes to Cadet Noel Karalus.

Officer Cadet N. Fitzgerald

FRIAR PRIZE WINNER

Readers of last year's "Cardinal, Blue and Gold" will recall that, as the magazine went to the printer, Officer Cadet Nigel Fitzgerald had reached the finals of the William Robert Friar Memorial Prize Competition—which is conducted each year to find the most efficient cadet in the Central Military District. It was a source of legitimate pride for Nigel and for the school when, after a further inspection by Major W. G. Pike from Trentham, he was awarded this prize. We congratulate "Fitz" on his convincing win. It was no mean achievement—as is clear from the fact that the other three contestants were accepted this year for Duntroon and Portsea.

Lt.-Col. R. H. Dyson, accompanied by Br.
Director and Major W.
G. Pipe, inspects the Unit.

RIDDIFORD CUP INSPECTION

On Wednesday, 12th October, the Unit was inspected by Lt.-Col. R. H. Dyson, Chief of Staff for the Central Military District, accompanied by Major W. G. Pike, Commandant of Trentham Camp. These Officers examined Peter Roebuck — Taranaki's representative for the Friar Memorial Prize—and then proceeded to inspect the Unit Organisation and training. At the end of the ceremonial parade, Col. Dyson commended the boys on the high standard of achievement which they had demonstrated throughout the day.

The N.C.O.s and cadets who took part in this competition have every reason to be proud of their efforts. The visiting Officers appeared to be genuinely impressed. Perhaps it would be presumption to hope to win the Cup at our first attempt; nevertheless, we know that we did well, and we look forward interestedly to the results.

GRATITUDE

We were pleased to welcome Mr. Leo Walsh to our Unit at the beginning of the year, and we are grateful to himself and Brother Basil for carrying out most of the less glamorous but essential tasks that a cadet training programme involves.

Our thanks are also due to Mr. Bannister and Mr. Donald of Okato and to Mr. Keegan of Stratford for so readily and kindly allowing us to use part of their properties for cadet bivouacs.

Special thanks must go to the generous and obliging Mr. Jack Chivers of the local St. John Ambulance, whose services in conducting the First Aid course for the cadets are greatly appreciated.

To Major Shaw, Mr. Heath and the staff of Area 8 H.Q. we are grateful for their interest in our unit, their valued advice and their ever-ready practical assistance during the year.

SHOOTING TEAM'S SUCCESS

The College Shooting Championships and two other Inter-School Shooting competitions are decided each year late in the third term. Results for 1966 are not yet available. The College Senior Shooting Champion for 1965 was Peter Roebuck, and the .22 Champion was Gerald Watt.

The College .22 Shooting Team topped Central Military District in the Press Shield Competition in November 1965. Unfortunately, the Inter-Area .303 shoot was cancelled in November last year. This was especially unfortunate for the team from Wanganui Collegiate which arrived in New Plymouth on the Saturday morning at about the same time as the heavy rain.

FIRST XV UNDEFEATED IN 1966 SEASON.

This year's First XV was, without doubt, the best team fielded by the College since its opening eight years ago. For the past two seasons the Firsts have hinted at better things to come and this year fully justified their claim to be one of the better football colleges in Taranaki. The main reason for the success of this year's team was the training the boys received in lower grade teams; this being the strength of any school rugby. Looking back on results of these lower grades this year it could be said the future looks bright for the First Fifteen.

An unbeaten record in all rugby matches in a season is certainly an achievement that the team should be proud of and of course is a record future teams will find hard to emulate. Peter Roebuck and Dennis Moynihan were the only really seasoned players at the beginning of the year. That the majority of the team were untried in the Secondary School Grade shows how quickly the boys were able to adjust their game and develop into a winning combination. An early season match with the strong Hawera High School side gave an indication that the team would be very sound and their win here gave the boys early confidence for their hard season. As the season progressed it became more difficult each Saturday as all opponents lifted their game against the College to endeavour to be first to humble the unbeaten team. The best early match was against Inglewood High School, who had seldom been beaten on their home ground, and a team that the firsts had not beaten prior to this match. After winning convincingly 16-0 the College realized their potential, went from strength to strength to finish the season without a loss.

This season was the first in which we could confidently attack with both forwards and backs, thus producing many fine movements which thrilled the spectators. It is remarkable that of the forty-six tries scored during the season, thirty-two were scored by the backs. Individualising, the team comprised a powerful front row in David Whittle, Frank Roebuck and David Coogan. Hooker Jim Martin, the outstanding rake in the grade, fully deserved his selection as the number one hooker for the touring Taranaki team. Locks Michael Parsons, Noel Richardson and Jeffrey Reeve were real toilers, Noel being outstanding in the lineout play. Captain Peter Roebuck, who played as No. 8 for the season, led his team with confidence, not expecting any forward to work harder than he did himself. His selection as vice-captain of the touring party was, indeed, a fitting reward. The loose forwards, Dennis Moynihan, Paul Dwyer, John Watson and Paul Karalus were all very thoughtful players, Dennis being the outstanding loose forward in the grade.

Few teams can boast of two halves of the calibre of Tom Lawn and Kim Richardson. Tom, who played the majority of the games, was never outplayed by an opposite even though he was lacking in size. Two confident five-eighths Paul Mora and Gerald Watt were of tremendous value. Centre Brett Moynihan was a very decisive player, proving a match winner on many occasions. The wingers Brian Davis, Ian Fahy and Brian Tracey were quick to take advantage of the many opportunities that came their way and all scored many tries.

John Kissick and Robert Watt were the two fullbacks called on. Robert was, without doubt, the best fullback of secondary school age in Taranaki. He was outstanding in defence and a very reliable goalkicker. From our team Peter Roebuck and James Martin were selected for the Taranaki Secondary Schools team to tour Australia. Robert Watt, Ian Fahy, Brett Moynihan, Paul Mora, Gerald Watt, Tom Lawn, Kim Richardson, Dennis Moynihan, David Whittle and Frank Roebuck won selection to other Secondary Schools Representative Teams.

Members of the First Fifteen wish to thank the many people who helped with transport and with the preparation of afternoon teas throughout the season. To the many supporters who followed the team every Saturday we trust you received as much enjoyment from the games as the boys did themselves.

Lastly, our sincere thanks to our coach, Mr. Leo Walsh, for his untiring efforts throughout the season. We hope that future First Fifteens will continue to bring credit to his coaching methods, and thus to the College.

TARANAKI SECONDARY SCHOOLS TOUR

After a delay of nearly three hours our Air New Zealand D.C.8 left Mangere Airport for Sydney at about 11.50. We flew at about 40,000 feet but a head wind cut down our speed. Having been served a delicious meal during the flight, time passed quickly so that we were soon over Sydney. At Mascot Airport we were met by some officials of the Combined High Schools, and also to our surprise, by Brother Benignus. Our first glimpse of Sydney's sights included some of the factory area near Mascot. A visit to the famous Domain and its collection of soap-box orators was amusing but not very enlightening.

During the next day we saw quite a bit of Sydney, from North Sydney Oval—the ground's hardness and absence of grass amazed us—to some of the Northern beaches, across the harbour by ferry to Manly, passing the famous bridge and the unfinished but gigantic Opera House.

From Sydney we boarded a bus for the Australian Capital, Canberra. Here we were introduced to the drive-in movie. The movie wasn't much but the drive-in theatre was impressive. A coach trip around the sights of Canberra revealed some remarkable foreign embassy buildings, the much photographed Science and Anatomical Institute and the beautiful artificial lake. In New Zealand we take our natural assets, such as ubiquitous healthy trees, for granted. But at Canberra when the city was planned, trees and gardens had to be especially planted. No one who visits Canberra fails to see the world renowned War Memorial Museum and here cameras clicked in the hope of recording the most spectacular sights some of us had ever seen.

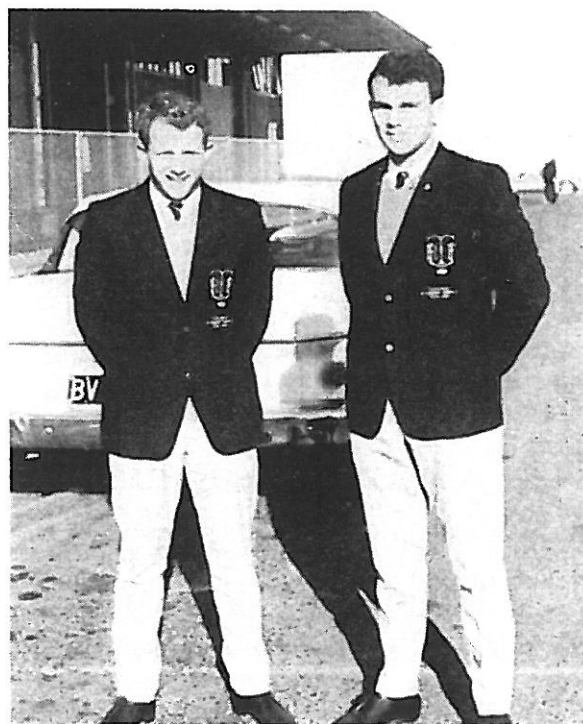

On the next day we visited Parliament in session but after a while we decided to leave the politicians to their legislation and attend to the more important task of playing the Combined Canberra High Schools Team. We won this game and were whisked back to Sydney where we proceeded to beat the so far unbeaten North Shore Zone team. Ten pin bowling and a miniature golf course proved diversions from the usual tours.

During the next few days we visited some of the early historical places around Parramatta, one of the earliest settled areas of New South Wales. Also included in the itinerary was a visit to Taronga Park Zoo where cameras clicked frantically. We were amused by the amount of Italian in the Sunday Mass at Manly but were informed that this was for the benefit of Italian immigrants. Then followed a trip to the Blue Mountains, height of only 3,000 feet, and their Cable Car and Scenic Railway attractions.

The game of the tour, played against the Combined High School team, was a curtain-raiser to the Wallaby trials. We won 15-8. After the game we met the Francis Douglas Old boys training to be brothers. They had been allowed to come out to see the game. Brother Benignus had not missed one of our games in Sydney. He was also there at Mascot together with our hosts before we left for Auckland. Many thanks must go to the officials of the Combined High Schools and to the boys themselves for such hospitality.

School Athletic Champions

Athletics

Left to Right:

E. Fleming (E Division), J. Brennan (B Division), V. Duoba (A Division), P. Brennan (D Division), P. Tracey (C Division), P. Luoni (F Division).

This year's athletic season saw athletics established as a sporting activity almost as popular as football. The great change in attitude has been due to patient and untiring coaching of Mr. Peter Walsh, who, four years ago, began with a small group of senior boys. Their successes inspired interest amongst the younger boys, who are today's senior athletes.

We athletes wish to express our sincere appreciation of the time Mr. Walsh has put into our training, and for all he has done. His interests in the athletes has been personal, and we cannot help being impressed by his friendship and dedication.

THE SENIORS

Competition was expected to be keen in the senior division. The perennial rivals for the trophy were Peter Roebuck and Victor Duoba. The former was expected to win the field events and at least the 100 sprint. Victor was a certainty for the distance events and possibly the 220. Unfortunately, Peter was greatly handicapped by a long spell of illness during the holidays and could not reach top form. Victor narrowly won the sprints and became the first ever senior athlete to win the 100, 220, 440, 880 and mile. Unfortunately, the times were slow because of a very strong wind on the first day of the sports and during the morning of the main sports day.

In all, four records were broken: one by Victor Duoba (440); two by Peter Roebuck (long and triple-jump), and one by Noel Richardson (discus).

Senior results:

100 yards: V. Duoba 1, P. Roebuck 2, B. Tracey 3, B. Davis 4. (11sec.)

220 yards: V. Duoba 1, P. Roebuck 2, B. Tracey 3, B. Davis 4. (24.7sec.)

440 yards: V. Duoba 1, G. Spurdle 2; B. Davis 3, B. Moynihan 4. (52.3sec.) (Record).

880 yards: V. Duoba 1, P. Dwyer 2, G. Spurdle 3, J. Watson 4. (2min. 14.4sec.)

Mile: V. Duoba 1, P. Dwyer 2, J. Watson 3, G. Spurdle 4. (4min. 49.0sec.)

Hurdles: B. Moynihan, 1, D. Moynihan 2, G. Watt 3, R. Kulma 4. (18.0sec.)

High Jump: B. Stuck 1, B. Moynihan 2, B. Jeffares 3, D. Moynihan 4. (5ft. 1in.)

Long Jump: P. Roebuck 1, J. Kissick 2, B. Tracey 3, R. Watt 4. (18ft. 10½in.) (Record).

Hop, Step and Jump: P. Roebuck 1, N. Richardson 2, B. Tracey 3, R. Watt 4, (36ft. 6¼in.) (Record).

Discus: N. Richardson 1, G. Watt 2, R. Watt 3, K. Richardson 4. (103ft.) (Record).

Relay: Loreto 1, Solomon 2, La Salle 3, Benildus 4. (49.3sec.)

Walk: P. Mochnacki 1, J. Keen 2, D. Payne 3. (4min. 1.8sec.)

Senior Champion: V. Duoba.

B DIVISION

The three outstanding athletes in the B division were John Brennan, Richard Burns, and Michael Parsons. All three athletes had trained hard during the season and all were prominent in their events. John Brennan dominated the sprints, putting on an excellent show over the 220, which he covered in 24sec. Dick Burns walked away in the half mile and mile in very good times for the conditions. Mick Parsons is one of the best athletes the school has seen for a long time. He is capable of applying himself to his training, and has turned into an outstanding hurdler.

B division results:

- 100 yards: J. Brennan 1, M. Wealleans 2, R. Rukuwai 3, L. O'Byrne 4. (11.6sec.)
220 yards: J. Brennan 1, M. Wealleans 2, R. Rukuwai 3, L. O'Byrne 4. (24.0sec.) (Record).
440 yards: J. Brennan 1, M. Wealleans 2, R. Burns 3, L. O'Byrne 4. (56.7sec.)
880 yards: R. Burns 1, R. Nixon 2, A. Eversfield 3, M. Parsons 4. (2min. 10.2sec.)
Mile: R. Burns 1, R. Nixon 2, A. Eversfield 3, M. Parsons 4. (5min. 1.8sec.)
Hurdles: M Parsons 1, I Fahy 2, L O'Byrne 3, J. Galvin 4. (16.7sec.)
High Jump: I. Fahy 1, M. Parsons 2, P. Henley 3, P. D'Ath 4. (5ft. 2in.) (Record).
Long Jump: M. Wealleans 1, R. Rukuwai 2, J. Brennan 3, P. Henley 4. (18ft. 1½in.)

Relay: La Salle 1, Solomon 2, Benildus 3, Loreto 4. (50.3sec.) (Record).
Walk: G. Richardson 1, M. Wackrow 2, L. Jury 3. (4min. 44.8sec.)
Division Champion: J. Brennan.

C DIVISION

The standard of college athletics should reach a peak in several years time judging from the efforts of boys in the lower grades. The C division champion, P. Tracey, is a potential sprint champion and has good all-round ability. Noel Karalus looks like becoming the college's best-ever distance runner. At the moment he has not begun regular training but he has the keenness and ability to break records in the future.

Michael Quin featured in the sprints and in the distance events. He is more suited to the latter field and should encourage Noel Karalus in the future.

C division results:

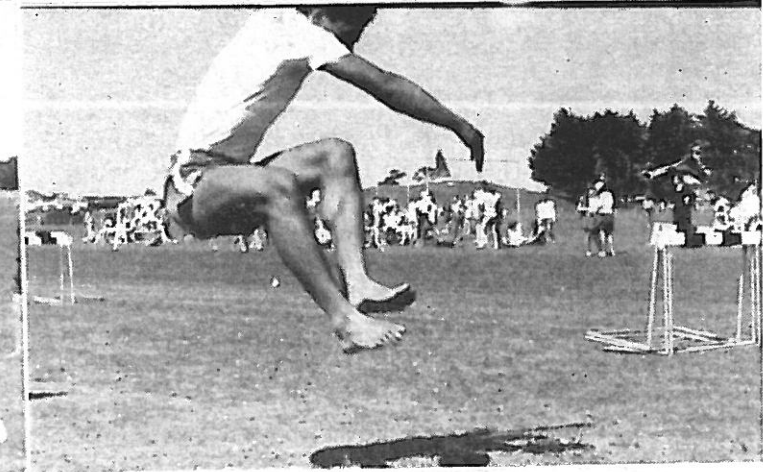

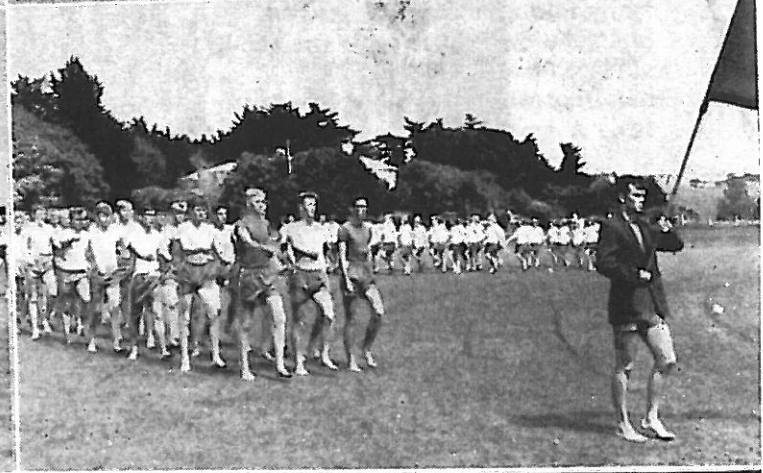

- 100 yards: P. Tracey 1, M. Quin 2, C. Manu 3, T. Avery 4. (12.2sec.)
220 yards: P. Tracey 1, C. Manu 2, M. Quin 3, T. Avery 4. (25.0sec.)
440 yards: P. Tracey 1, M. Quinn 2, C. Holland 3, T. Avery 4. (57.1sec.)
880 yards: M. Quin 1, N. Karalus 2, S. Tarr 3, R. Vavasour 4. 2min. 15.78sec.)
Mile: N. Karalus 1, M. Quin 2, R. Vavasour 3, J. Gardner 4. (5min. 7.4sec.)
80m Hurdles: G. Wright 1, B. King 2, S. Brophy 3, S. Mora 4. 15.0sec.)
High Jump: P. Julian 1, R. Vavasour 2, P. Tracey 3, J. Reilly 4. (5ft 1in.) (Record).
Long Jump: C. Manu 1, A. Jones 2, J. Reilly 3, S. Tarr 4. (16ft. 4¾in.)
Discus: P. Julian 1, J. Gardner 2, C. Holland 3, C. Gilmour 4. (99ft. 6in.)
Relay: Loreto 1, Benildus 2, Solomon 3, La Salle 4.
Division Champion: P. Tracey.

D DIVISION

Paul Brennan is an example of an athlete who trained conscientiously and progressively. He reacted excellently to his schedule and excelled in the sprints and middle-distance events. The three records he broke at the college sports were the least he deserved.

D Division results:

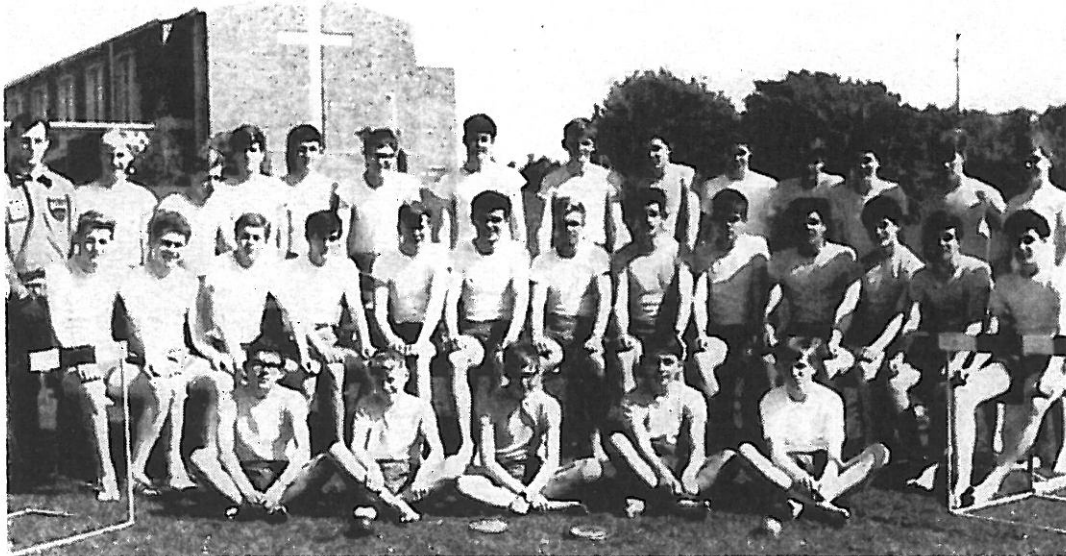

- 100 yards: P. Brennan 1, C. Pearce 2, L. Borcsik 3, T. Dwyer 4. (12.9sec.)
220 yards: P. Brennan 1, B. Parsons 2, L. Borcsik 3, C. Pearce 4. (25.8sec.) (Record).
440 yards: P. Brennan 1, B. Parsons 2, T. Dwyer 3, C. Pearce 4. (58.1sec.) (Record).
880 yards: P. Brennan 1, T. Dwyer 2, W. Charteris 3, T. Schumacher 4. (2min. 20.3sec.)
Mile: T. Dwyer 1, M. Charteris 2, R. Ciechanowski 3, N. Graham 4. (5min. 17.0sec.)
Hurdles: B. Parsons 1, R. Wolff 2, K. Tocker 3. (13.7sec.)
High Jump: B. Corlett 1, P. Condon 2, D. Bourke 3, G. Watkinson 4. (4ft. 9in.) (Record).
Long Jump: P. Brennan 1, P. Condon 2, D. Bourke 3, L. Borcsik 4. (17ft 7¾in.) (Record).

THE INTER-SECONDARY SPORTS

The inter-secondary sports were held at Stratford in windy conditions which ruled out several records and precluded others.

The results of the meeting bring credit upon the school and for this, we must once again thank Mr. Peter Walsh.

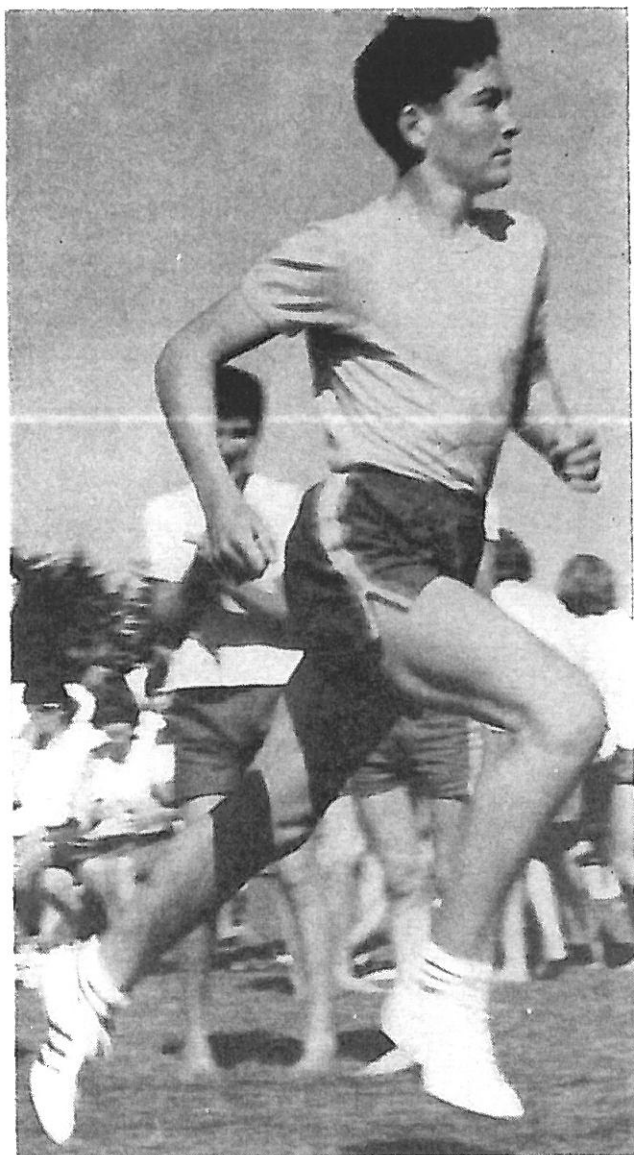

Victor Duoba won both the 440 and 880 senior, but was too jaded after a long and interrupted season to break any records. Sprinters

Peter Roebuck and Brian Tracey benefited from the excellent track and showed their true potential. Peter gained third place in the 220 and was well under his previous personal best. Brett Moynihan deserved more than third place in the senior hurdles, but was unfortunately distracted when he looked like winning.

A compliment must be paid to C-grader Noel Karalus who ran in the senior mile. He came seventh in a time close to 5 mins. which is very good for a boy of fourteen years.

The most spectacular event of the day was the senior relay. Brian Tracey received the baton as last man and was ten yards clear of Ross Smith of Inglewood. But speedster Smith hurtled in pursuit and finished mere inches behind Brian.

Paul Brennan winning the Junior 880 in record time

John Brennan and Michael Parsons were the outstanding athletes in the intermediate division. John won the 220, then, a bare ten minutes later, ran in the 440, his speciality. He looked set to win to external appearances, but his full effort 220 had taken too much out of him and he couldn't help slipping back into fourth place.

Michael Parsons delighted the spectators with a brilliant display of hurdling. Ian Fahy came second, but Mick looked like the only competitor in the event. His fluent technique drew the comments of many spectators and officials.

Paul Brennan was the soul of the junior effort with three personal wins—the 440, the 880, and the long-jump. His 880 was a record-breaking effort in difficult conditions. He was uncontested in both the 440 and half mile, emerging a clear winner.

These results represent a tremendous effort. But it is not the brilliant individuals who make a team; it is the ones who tried and succeeded, or nearly did.

Placings at the sports were:

Senior:

220: P. Roebuck, 3rd.
440: V. Duoba, 1st.
880: V. Duoba, 1st.
Hurdles: B. Moynihan, 3rd.
Relay: V. Duoba, P. Roebuck, P. Karalus, B. Tracey, 1st.
Hop, Step and Jump: N. Richardson, 3rd.

Intermediate:

220: J. Brennan, 1st.
880: R. Burns, 2nd.
Hurdles: M. Parsons, 1st; I. Fahy, 2nd.
High Jump: I. Fahy, 2nd.
Discus: J. McDonald, 3rd.
Relay: I. Fahy, M. Wealleans, R. Rukuwai, P. Tracey, 3rd.

Junior:

440: P. Brennan, 1st.
880: P. Brennan, 1st (Record).
Hurdles: B. Parsons, 3rd.
Long Jump: P. Brennan, 1st.
High Jump: B. Corlett, 3rd.

Besides these our boys gained ten 4th and eight 5th places.

CROSS COUNTRY

The 1966 season has been especially interesting and successful for the College in cross-country running. The school championships (under the guiding hand of Mr. Walsh) were entered into with spirit and determination by most. In many instances the competition stimulated by inter-house rivalry, was very keen. The final results were as follows:—

Senior—V. Duoba 1, J. Watson 2, G. Spurdle.

Intermediate A—M. Parsons 1, R. Burns 2, A. Eversfield 3.

Intermediate B—N. Karalus 1, R. Vavasour 2, C. Holland 3.

Junior A—T. Schumacher 1, P. Brennan 2, W. Charteris 3.

Junior B—B. Hall 1, K. Monaghan 2, G. Duxfield 3.

Junior C—C. Dwyer 1, G. Boyer 2, P. Luoni 3.

The Taranaki Inter-Secondary Schools' Championships were held this year on the college course in steady rain, which, nevertheless, took none of the sting out of the competition.

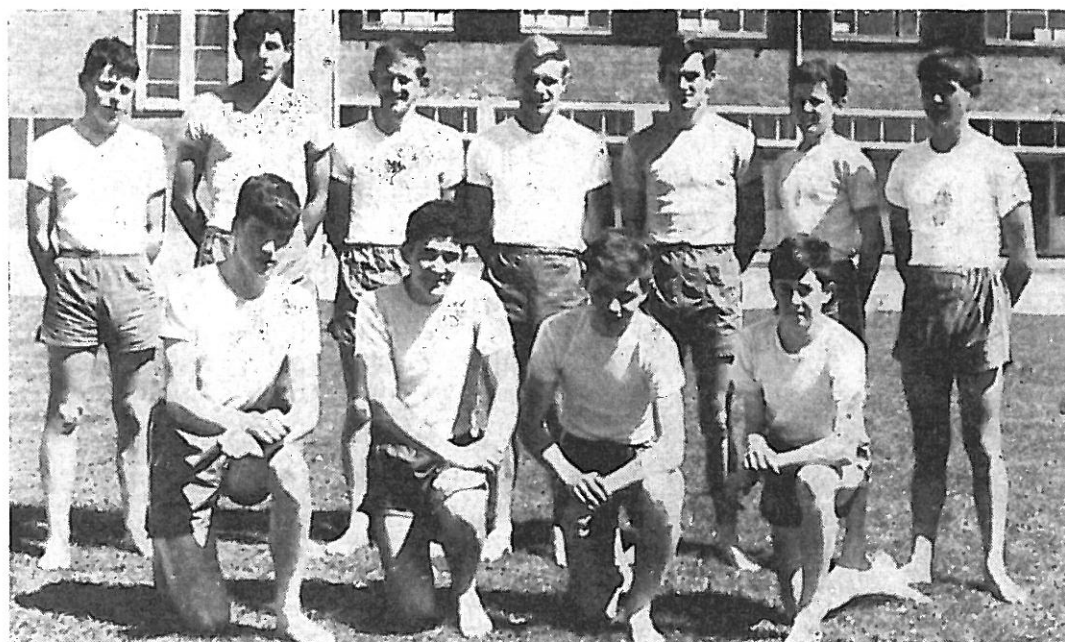

The college entered four boys in each of the three divisions and we congratulate these on their fine performance against the top runners of Taranaki's high schools. In particular a special word of praise for Noel Karalus who ran a brilliantly judged race in the Intermediate division to win by a handsome margin. In the other divisions Paul Brennan second in Junior division and Victor Duoba 5th in the Senior. The Junior team of P. Brennan, T. Schumacher, W. Charteris and T. Dwyer won the teams section of their division.

FIRST XI

The College First XI had another very successful season, registering three first innings wins, one draw and a loss. As the season progressed most players gained valuable experience which was evident in the later games.

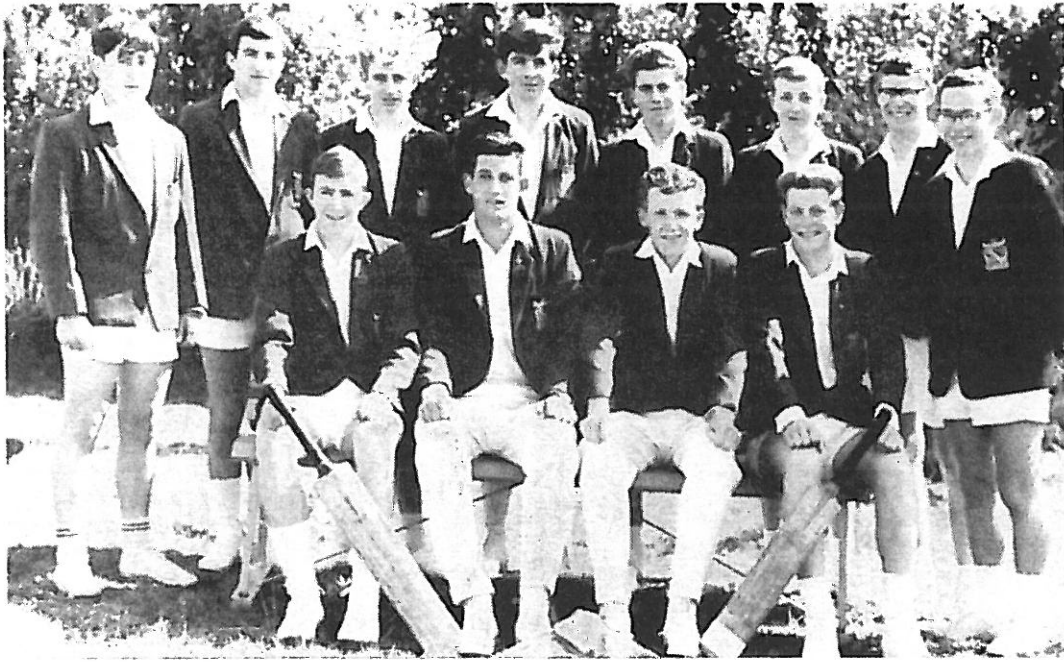

Solid batting, consistent bowling and accurate fielding (often), combined with a good team spirit was responsible for such success. The following is a brief commentary on individual players:

- D. Moynihan (Captain): Conscientious leader, sound opening batsman, gained rep. selection.
- R. Watt (Vice-captain): Successful season with bat, reliable off-spin bowler.
- J. Gibb: Acquired the highest batting aggregate, representative position.

- J. Kissick: Good fielder and handy batsman.
- G. Watt: The best fielder in the team, good for some quick runs when his eye was in.
- P. Mora: Consistent left hand bowler.
- T. Bolger: Procured the highest bowling aggregate.
- M. Wackrow: Handy batsman when called upon.
- J. Reilly: The youngest player, shows great promise.
- K. Richardson: Some attractive bowling figures.
- K. Landrigan: A good change bowler.
- M. Wealleans: Aggressive batsman, conscientious fielder.

Many thanks to Mr. Leo Walsh for willingly spending so much time in coaching the team. Also many thanks to Mr. Des Chapman whose vigilant umpiring was always welcome.

THE F.D.C. SWIMMING CARNIVAL

"Take your marks, face the water"—c-rack! A movement of bronze-coloured bodies and they're gliding through the water, and then thrashing out a foamy wake behind, as the competitors of one of the forty eight events of the F.D.C. Swimming Carnival fight for a record. They're half-way now, and fairly bunched but soon one will draw ahead. Yes, there he goes, a small black-haired lad is going up now, his flashing arms digging deep and thrusting back, ready for another powerful stroke. The three remaining yards are quickly eaten up, and, panting heavily, he hauls himself out of the water, deeply satisfied with his win.

To my right is the dark blue water of the diving pool—fourteen feet deep. Into it plunges one of the diving competitors, leaving behind a jet of spray.

Yes, this is it—our first carnival. The day is rather warm though it didn't look too promising in the morning.

At the moment I can't hear myself for the hearty applause of some other House as the announcer, Br. Peter, confirms a win for their representative.

The refreshment department is being continuously invaded and it looks very inviting—especially at the thought of a long walk back to school.

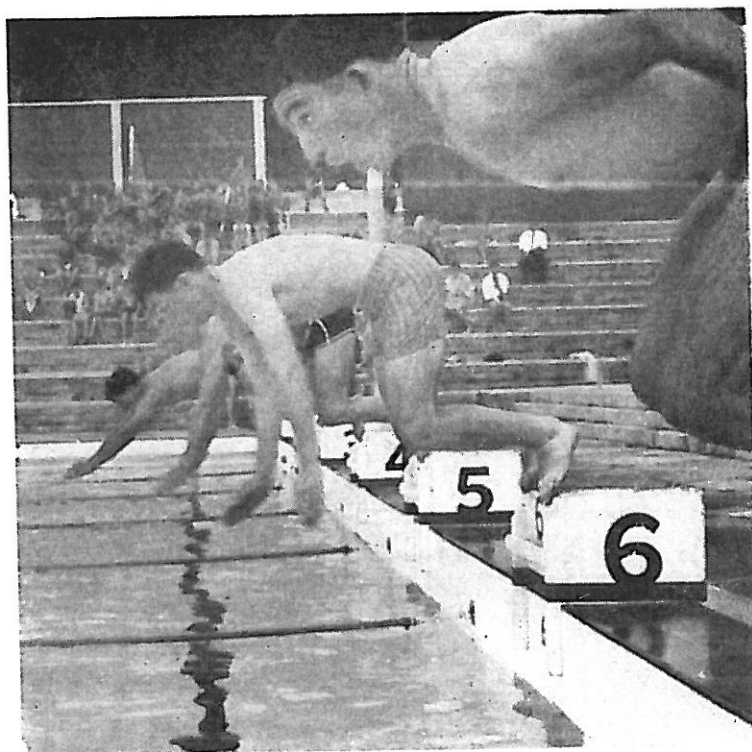

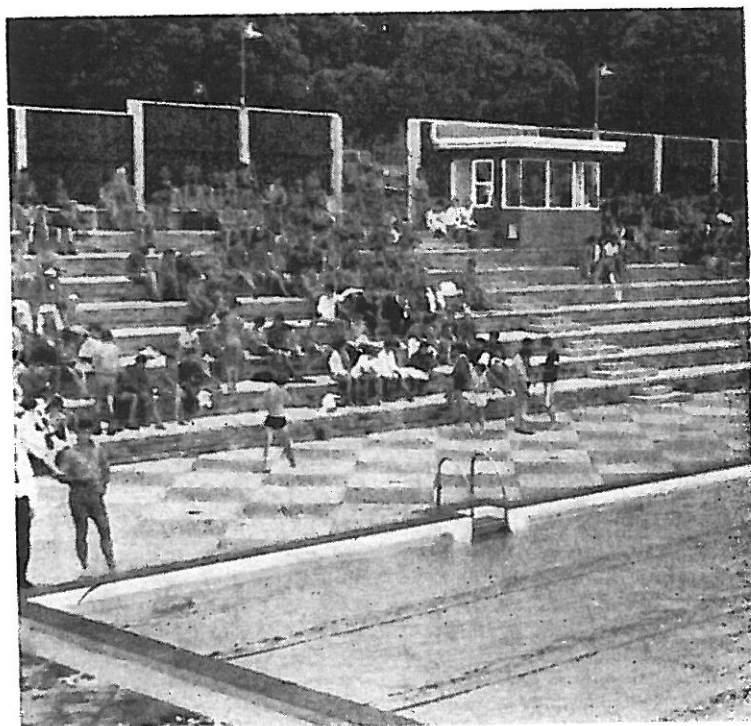

Finally the last race finishes and the Bro. Director says a few words.

It's been a terrific success for all—especially for the winners, Solomon House.

Final points were: Solomn 102, Benildus 86, Loreto 55, La Salle 51.

Champion boys: Senior, Barry McCullough; Intermediate A, Patrick Henderson; Intermediate B, James Gardner; Junior A, Timothy Dwyer; Junior B, Geoffrey Duxfield; Junior C, P. Whittle.

M. Ryan, F.4A.

 (Captain), B. Jarvis, B. King.

During the second term of this year basketball was introduced to the school. Due to the fine coaching of Brother Gerard, the basic techniques of basketball were soon mastered and as in almost any other sport at the college the Boarders and the Dayboys formed teams in order to play one another. Of the three games thus played, the boarders proved to be a little superior winning two of the three.

As we became somewhat more proficient games were sought outside the college. Two were played against Spotswood College, both of which we lost. We also had a game against New Plymouth Boys' High School. All of these games were really educating us to the intricacies of match play.

At the end of the season a team was selected to play in the Taranaki Inter-Secondary Schools Basketball Tournament at Hawera. Although all our games were lost, we gained valuable experience for future tournaments, and are keenly awaiting next season.
